Mob Gathers in East Point Forcing Trolley Company To Curtail Car Service

Members Toss Stones and Eggs at Street Cars, Endangering Passengers and Employees, Early Wednesday Evening.

CARMAN, UNDER ARREST, AND COUNTY POLICEMEN THREATENED BY CROWD

Sheriff Sends Deputies to Scene to Prevent Violence. Little Trouble in Atlanta Wednesday—Company Will Not Confer With the Strikers.

Scenes of violent rioting occurred at East Point last night about 10 o'clock, during which three county policemen were compelled to retreat with a prisoner and two carmen to the safety of the town substation of the Georgia Railway and Power company, where a call for help was sent through the starter's office to Sheriff Mangum and county police headquarters.

The incident ensued after members of a mob of 200 are said to have tossed stones and eggs at passing trolleys, one of which stopped while the crew gave pursuit to a number of the assailants. A subsequent encounter between E. Stanton, a conductor doing special guard duty, and Robert Woodberry, an East Point youth, precipitated the trouble.

STANTON ARRESTED.

Stanton was arrested under a warrant sworn out by East Point citizens, charging him with carrying concealed weapons. The mob grew so menacing that County Policemen Oliver, Peacock and Jackson, who had him in custody, hurried him and Lon Brandt, the motorman of a Hapeville car, on which Stanton was stationed, to the substation, a block north of the postoffice, which is in the center of town.

The mob surrounded the substation and for a time the situation appeared serious. Syd Glenn was telephoned at the starter's office to send help. He communicated with Sheriff Wheeler Mangum, who, with an auto load of deputies, hurried to the scene. In the meantime a trolley load of conductors and motormen, held in reserve at the starter's office, was dispatched to East Point. This body, however, was turned back at Fort McPherson.

Stanton was brought to Atlanta, where bond was given for his appearance in court. A number of arrests were made by county policemen of members of the mob. The incident is likely to result in an investigation by Fulton county authorities into the repeated disturbances which have occurred at East Point during the trolley troubles, and which have frequently resulted in discontinuance of service on all interurban lines passing through the town.

Although the trolley system undertook to operate the Hapeville, College Park and East Point lines, which go through the latter place, service was discontinued at 9 o'clock at the advice of County Policeman Jackson in charge of the three county men on the scene. Many cars had been stoned and egged since nightfall, and the crews of passing trolleys were experiencing extreme difficulty in traveling through town.

LITTLE TROUBLE IN ATLANTA.

Trouble in Atlanta sections was considerably diminished last night, even though the trolley company operated more cars and on better schedules than the previous night. An unknown woman passenger was struck by a missile on a Soldiers' Home car as it rounded the Fair street curve. She was not seriously injured, however, the stone striking her right shoulder.

Rocks were thrown through a Luckie street car at Hemphill and Tenth street early last night, and the tracks were greased along Pryor street at Woodward avenue, where a slight incline made travel perilous. The Orme street and Magnolia lines were discontinued at 9 o'clock because of greased tracks at both ends, where the grade was too steep and lengthy to permit travel.

The schedules on many lines were nearer normal last night. These were the Whitehall and Georgia avenue, and

DR. NORRIS CALLED BY THE TABERNACLE

Pastor of the First Baptist Church at Fort Worth Will Probably Announce His Decision on Sunday.

Dr. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist church of Fort Worth, Texas, was invited by the congregation of the Baptist Tabernacle last night to accept the pastorate of the Tabernacle. The congregation voted to invite Dr. Norris to become their pastor after the "pulpit" committee of the church had recommended him as the successor to the work of Dr. Len Broughton.

Dr. Norris thanked the church for their invitation and asked that he be given time to consider the proposition. He stated that he realizes that the field here is large, and that he would not like to rush into the place without considering the matter thoroughly.

Dr. Norris is known as "The fighting parson" in Texas, where, as pastor of the First Baptist church at Fort Worth, he led a campaign against vice in that city. It was under his leadership that the church forces of the city gained a complete victory over the saloons and restricted districts, driving them from the city.

Because of his activities there Dr. Norris was the center of criticism from the element that opposed him in this vice crusade. His church was burned and he was arrested on an incendiary charge, but was acquitted by the courts. He was shot at several times, and has had his life threatened several times.

Dr. Norris filled the pulpit at the Tabernacle Wednesday night. It was after the services that the invitation was extended to him to become pastor of the church. He will preach twice next Sunday and will probably give his answer to the congregation at the morning service.

BREAD AND BUTTER NO LONGER SERVED FREE WITH MEALS

If your favorite waiter in either of the hotel cafes brings your a la carte breakfast this morning minus bread and butter, do not think that the poor fellow has forgotten anything.

You will have to order both bread and butter, else it will be a breadless and butterless meal.

Beginning the first of the month bread and butter took respective positions on the menu cards, and right opposite them rose the mathematical equivalent of one dime. The explanation is the muchly familiar "high-cost-of-living."

The Ansley, Piedmont and Winecoff are downtown hotels indulging in the practice. Bread and butter are charged for at 10 cents an order with all a la carte service.

However, a good way to save a dime is to order a regular meal, with which bread and butter are free.

PRICES ADVANCED ON STAPLE DISHES BY RESTAURANTS

Chicago, October 4.—Two of Chicago's largest dairy restaurant companies raised the price five cents on a number of staple dishes today because of the increased cost in commodities resulting from the war.

Bacon and eggs, ham and eggs and small steaks were advanced from 25 cents to 30 cents. Even the price of corn beef hash was advanced from 15 to 20 cents.

52,000 Bushels of Wheat Yield of 1,000-Acre Field In Province of Alberta

Edmonton, Alberta, October 4.—O. S. Noble, of Nobleford, Alberta, has a thousand-acre field, the wheat crop of which, threshed, gave a yield of 52 bushels to the acre, the highest ever known in any part of the world, according to estimates made today.

The world's record for wheat was formerly held by Whitman county, Washington, with 51 bushels.

SHERIFF GRILLED IN FEDERAL COURT

Clayton County Official Is Asked if He Didn't Carry Bag of Malt to Home of Jim Brown, Alleged Moonshiner.

Sheriff Dixon, of Clayton county, was put on the grill yesterday in the United States district court during the trial of Jim Brown, held on the charge of operating a still about three miles south of Jonesboro, in Clayton county, after he admitted that he and another man had taken a "bag of chicken feed" to the Brown home. He was then questioned at some length as to whether the bag did not contain malt. Dixon declared that so far as he knew the bag contained "chicken feed."

In the same series of cases, all involving the one alleged moonshine distillery, John Brown, brother of the man now on trial, was earlier in the week found guilty of selling "blockade" whisky, and Demmie Lee, son-in-law of Josh Brown, was by the same jury convicted of working in the still and thus of having been party to the manufacture of the illicit "corn." Both convicted men were remanded to jail pending the sentencing of them at the conclusion of the Jim Brown trial.

Wife Goes on Stand.

The star witness for the government in the case on trial is Mrs. Josh Brown, who has separated from her husband, but is not divorced, and because of this fact, was not qualified to testify against him. Her testimony against her brother-in-law, however, created something of a sensation, and witnesses will be introduced by the defense this morning to impeach it, the attempt being to prove that it was given through pique, malice and hatred resulting from the alleged unhappy domestic relations.

She testified that she was compelled to leave her husband because of his abuse of her, and that life became intolerable with him and his relatives, largely, she said, because of their operation of a still and personal consumption of its product. She said she would long ago have informed the authorities of the still's existence but for fear of bodily harm, which fear, she swore, was brought about by threats against her.

When finally she left her husband and made her escape from the district, she freely told the officers all she knew.

Sheriff Dixon was put upon the witness stand, and among other things, in answer to questions as to his knowledge about the alleged still, admitted that one night he and a man named A. Brown took "a bag of chicken feed" to Jim and Josh Brown's home, where the still is alleged to have been found.

Charged It Was Malt.

Assistant District Attorney Paul Carpenter asked him if it were not malt, and not "chicken feed," that the bag contained.

The sheriff finally said that all he knew about it was that "Brown said it was chicken feed."

The government introduced other testimony to prove that the bag in question, and others like it, contained malt, and was used for the manufacture of "mountain dew."

Answering questions, Dixon declared: "I wouldn't believe that woman under oath."

The Browns and Lee are being defended by Attorneys O. J. Coogler, Jonesboro, and Clarence Bell, of Atlanta.

GOVERNOR MAJOR BOSSES CONVICTS AT HIGHWAY WORK

Jefferson City, Mo., October 4.—Governor Major, of Missouri, today directed the work of 200 prisoners from the state penitentiary on a ten-mile stretch of road near here. The governor gave every convict worker three cigars and supplied them with watermelon.

For each day the convicts work on the roads they will be allowed twenty days off their sentences, provided their road work is satisfactory.

"Get-Rich-Quick" Flower Drops Dead in a Theater; Schemes Netted $1,000,000

New York, October 4.—Dr. Richard C. Flower, known throughout the country for stock selling operations from which he was credited with having netted more than $1,000,000, dropped dead in a Hoboken theater Sunday night, it became known tonight when relatives identified the body. Flower, who operated under many aliases, was in turn lawyer, preacher, "healer," an "alchemist," with a secret for the manufacture of rubies, and a Wall street operator. He was 73 years old.

The son of a country clergyman, Flower was graduated from Northwestern university in 1868, practiced law in the middle west and later entered the ministry. When the ministry palled on him he turned "healer" and founded an alleged medical company in which he sold stock.

At the time of his last arrest in Toronto in 1914, Flower had been a fugitive from justice nearly twelve years. He was liberated August 1 last from the Blackwell's Island penitentiary and since then had lived at Bavonne, N. J.

MRS. RIDDLEBERGER FOUND IN CESSPOOL

Woodstock, Va., October 4.—The body of Mrs. Emma Riddleberger, aged 71, widow of former United States Senator Harry H. Riddleberger, who represented Virginia soon after the civil war, was found in a cesspool at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. M. Magruder, here today. She came here recently from her home in Washington suffering from melancholia. Three sons and three daughters survive.

"MOTHER" JONES TALKS TO NEW YORK STRIKERS

New York, October 4.—"Mother" Jones, widely known as a labor orator, addressing a meeting here today of unionized carmen, who went on strike, September 6, urged those who heard her to "line up the women" with them.

"You're fighting for them," she declared. "Let them help you fight."

She asserted that the carmen should insist on only seven hours' work a day for $5 pay.

According to officials of the transit companies, service on subways and elevated lines is normal and on surface lines nearly normal. Out of a total of 613 arrests during the strike, it was said tonight by Interborough Rapid Transit company officers, there have been 432 convictions, while forty-two cases are pending.

Girl Is Convicted, But Lover Weds Her In the Court Room

Bride Admitted Stealing $5,000—Sentence Suspended When Lover Expressed Faith in Her and Married Her.

New York, October 4.—Dorothy Bornholz, 21 years old, was called to the bar in court of general sessons here today to be sentenced for the theft of $5,000 from the lace manufacturers who had trusted her implicitly while she was employed by them as a bookkeeper. She had admitted her guilt.

"Is there anybody in the court who is interested in the prisoner?" asked Judge Wadhams.

"I am, your honor," replied a young man.

"Do you realize that this young woman stands here having confessed that she stole $5,000 from her employers?" asked the court.

"I do, sir; but that makes no difference to me. I believe that she is honest at heart. I love her and I want to marry her."

Sentence was suspended when the young man, who said he was Harry Richard Mattison, a clerk, produced a marriage license. Partial restitution of the stolen money has been made and the return of the remainder promised.

Nabbed as Forger, Savannah Clerk Commits Suicide

Savannah, Ga., October 4.—(Special.) While Chief of Detectives Murphy was standing by him looking at a check, J. P. Holmes, who was under arrest for forgery, shot and killed himself.

Holmes was bookkeeper for three Savannah concerns and had juggled the checks of two of them in such a way that his forgery was not discovered for several days after it was committed.

Today the case was turned over to the police. The detective went to the store where Holmes was working, and Holmes said he was expecting a call from him. Carefully placing his books in the safe the bookkeeper said he had to step up stairs a moment. The officer insisted upon accompanying him. Handing the officer a bank book to examine Holmes slipped a pistol from his pocket and shot himself through the head, dying instantly.

Holmes served a term in the federal prison ten years ago for misapplying bankruptcy money in the celebrated McArthur case. Since his release he has had temporary positions but could not hold them because of his former trouble. He attempted suicide a few months ago.

TROOPER RUNS AMUCK THROUGH GAINESVILLE

Deserter Fires at Everyone He Meets in Dash From Guardhouse.

Gainesville, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—The business section of Gainesville was terrorized this afternoon when Private J. C. Grant, troop F, national guard, escaped from the armory where he had been detained as a deserter from the mobilization camp at Macon, and ran amuck through the streets, emptying his two army pistols at pedestrians as he ran. Fortunately the shots went wild and Grant, evidently crazed by drink, was finally subdued before he had wounded anyone seriously.

Grant passed out North Bradford street, through the public square and down main street to the corner of Broad, where he entered the Palmour Hardware Co.'s store, presumably to purchase more cartridges. There he was seized by Bartow Parks, of the fire department, who succeeded in grabbing both of Grant's hands as the latter attempted to level his guns. Grant fired twice after being seized by Parks, but each shot went wild. After Parks had virtually overcome the crazed man others joined and succeeded in disarming him and landing him in the city prison at the town hall. Grant is now lying in a cell, drunk and swearing.

As Grant sped through the business section, terrorizing every one as he passed, he fired point blank at several people, but fortunately none of his shots took effect except one, which grazed the knee of Joe Brice, producing a slight flesh wound. Mr. Brice had the presence of mind to brush his trousers and pass by Grant, whom he was facing, as though nothing had happened.

Grant ran away from the mobilization camp last Friday and, together with Cliff Byrd, Lloyd Woodruff, Bill Dooley, Nolan Joy and Finney Kimzey, was under arrest at the armory and in charge of Sergeant W. F. Rogers, who was to leave with them tonight for the mobilization camp. Grant made his escape from the armory by grabbing Sergeant Rogers' pistol from his belt, picking up another as he was passing out and then defying rearrest by the sergeant and other members of his troops who sought to recapture him. He fired point blank at Private W. D. Dooley and Private Horace Joy, but missed them.

Grant enlisted August 16 as a single man, 20 years of age, and gave his residence as 38 Davis street, Gainesville, concealing the fact that he was a married man having a wife and baby at home at the time. His wife and child still reside in the city.

Sergeant W. F. Rogers leaves tonight for Camp Harris with Privates Byrd, Woodruff, Dooley, Joy and Kimzey, who also took French leave of absence from the camp last Friday night.

General Scott in Hospital.

Washington, October 4.—Major General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, is undergoing treatment at a hospital here for chronic stomach trouble. It was said at the war department today that the general was improving and that an operation was not deemed necessary.

NOISY WELCOME GIVEN TO WILSON IN MIDDLE WEST

Cheering Thousands at Stations as President's Special Passes Through Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

ABSENCE OF WHISKERS LIKED BY THE CROWDS

President Refused to Make Political Speeches, But Kept Up Runnning Fire of Remarks at Every Stop. Crowds Assured Him of Support.

Chicago, October 4.—President Wilson, penetrating the middle west today for his speech in Omaha tomorrow, received noisy welcomes from many thousand persons in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. He interpreted the enthusiasm to one crowd as meaning "you believe in me." At stop after stop the railroad stations were packed; at several places bands played and frequently the president remarked on the cordiality.

Refusing to turn his trip into a speech-making tour, the president nevertheless kept up a running fire of remarks at every stop. Interest among those who spoke to him centered most about the eight-hour law for railroad employees.

Campaign in West Satisfactory.

Mr. Wilson made a brief stop at Chicago tonight and conferred with Senator Walsh, in charge of democratic western headquarters; Senator Saulsbury, of Delaware, manager of the senatorial committee, and other department heads.

Several hundred persons, including local politicians, railroad men and not a few women, flocked to the train yards and cheered the president when he appeared. He shook hands with those nearest him.

Senator Walsh told him the campaign in the west was "more than satisfactory."

At every stop between Pittsburg, passed early this morning, and Chicago, the president appeared on the rear platform of his private car, waved to the crowds, explained that he was making no speeches and then shook hands with as many as possible.

"I am before the jury and can't say anything" was the way he explained his failure to speak in several towns.

"I am not making a speech-making campaign," said the president at Lima, Ohio, "but it touches me and gratifies me very much to get the greetings I have all along the line and Ohio has certainly shown her hospitality."

"We didn't want a speech, we wanted to see our president," a man called out.

"I don't think much of my speech-making, but I think it is better than I am to look at," Mr. Wilson said.

Called for Mrs. Wilson.

"We want to see Mrs. Wilson," a man shouted.

"I'll admit she is better worth looking at than I am," replied the president as he brought his wife forward.

"I heard a republican say today he was going to vote for you," a man called out at Wooster, Ohio.

"He must be a good man," retorted Mr. Wilson.

"You were with us in the eight-hour day and we are with you," said a man at Orrville, Ohio, a railroad town.

"Good," the president replied.

When the president stopped at Valparaiso, Ind., tonight a crowd, including some students, drew him into a reference to Mr. Hughes' whiskers.

"I haven't any speech to make," said Mr. Wilson. "I have never met you before, but your manners are very familiar. I am glad to see you."

A man in the crowd called out, "Aren't we glad he hasn't got whiskers."

"You are a clean-shaven crowd yourself," replied the president.

At Fort Wayne, the first stop in Indiana, Mr. Wilson said, "I haven't anything to say, my fellow citizens, except that it is exceedingly refreshing to get away from official duties and out among the folks again, and the sort of greeting you are giving me fills my heart with a great deal of gratitude. I am heartily obliged to you."

A railroad brakeman, just off duty, pushed out his hand and said, "Right there, Mr. President. She's dirty, but she's going to hit the rooster hard."

Likes to Meet the Folks.

At Warsaw, Ind., the president said: "It cheers me very much to have you come out and give me such a greeting because sometimes when I am hard at work I long very much to get away and come out to see the folks. It gives me the deepest gratitude as if you wanted to see me and believe in me. God bless you and good luck to you."

Edward G. Hoffman, of Fort Wayne, democratic national committeeman from Indiana, rode for a while with the president and later gave out an informal statement in which he claimed that Indiana would cast its electoral vote for Wilson.

"The president has a large personal following among Indiana republicans," Mr. Hoffman said. "The independent vote is for him solidly and he is assured of 25 per cent of the progressive votes. Our citizens do not believe in swapping horses in the middle of the stream."

The president will arrive at Omaha at about 11:40 o'clock tomorrow morning. He will make at least two speeches, one at a luncheon and the other in the evening at a non-partisan meeting. He will also review an historical pageant and parade. He will leave tomorrow night for Long Branch, N. J., where he will arrive Saturday morning.

In his party are Mrs. Wilson, Secretary Tumulty, Dr. Cary T. Grayson, the white house physician, and a corps of secret service men and stenographers.

The president has selected three members of the board to investigate the railway eight-hour law. Announcement of their names will be made as soon as they have consented to serve.

BATTLE TIDE RUNNING STRONGLY FOR ALLIES IN BALKAN THEATER

BLOODY STRUGGLE RAGES IN GALICIA; LOSSES APPALLING

Austro-Germans Desperately Resisting the Efforts of the Russians to Push Through to Lemberg.

New York, October 4.—(By Associated Press European Cable.)—The fierce battle which has been raging for several days west of Lutsk, in Volhynia, is still without decisive results for either side, while in Galicia along the Zlota Lipa river where the Russians are trying to push through to Lemberg, the Austro-German forces are still holding back the Russians. Berlin in its official account of the fighting near Lutsk says the Russian dead numbers thousands.

Unofficial dispatches from Petrograd report a Russian success in the drive for Lemberg. The Russians have captured the heights south of Brzezany, 50 miles southeast of Lemberg, it is declared, after forcing a passage of the Zlota Lipa, the Russian artillery then opening fire on the suburbs of this important railway town.

ALLIES GAIN IN FRANCE.

Rain is impeding operations in France, but the French on the Somme front are continuing their thrust northward on the Peronne-Bapaume road and have captured a strong line of German defenses between Morval and the St. Pierre Vaast wood. Paris announces today.

The British have expelled the Germans from the town of Eaucourt L'Abbaye, near the Pozieres-Bapaume road where their drive towards Bapaume is now within 3½ miles of its objective. London today reports Eaucourt L'Abbaye entirely in British possession.

The Italian troops have recaptured from the Austrians the northern slopes of Col Bricon and further advanced their position in this region, according to Rome.

SHARP ADVANTAGE WON BY RUSSIANS IN LEMBERG DRIVE

London, October 4.—After three days of incessant and furious fighting the Russians are reported to have won a considerable advantage in their new drive on Lemberg from the south and to be threatening the important railroad town of Brzezany, 50 miles southeast of Lemberg.

Reuter's Petrograd correspondent says the Russians, under cover of artillery fire, forced their way across the Zlota Lipa river, south of Brzezany, driving the Austro-German forces from the heights. The Russian artillery then advanced and began a bombardment of the camps, military establishments and suburbs of the town.

STUBBORN BATTLES, RUSSIANS REPORT.

Petrograd, October 4.—(Via London.) Russian and Teuton troops continue to fight stubborn battles in the region west of Bubnov, near Chelvov, and Korytniza stubborn battles continue.

"On the river Yeniuvka and at the source of the Zlota Lipa in Galicia, the enemy stubbonly holds his position," says today's official statement.

"During battles in the region of Dorna Watra (Rumanian frontier) our brave brigade commander, General Khoranov, who participated in the campaigns of 1877 and 1904, was seriously wounded.

"On the rest of the front artillery and rifle firing is proceeding at some points.

"Caucasian front: The situation is unchanged."

RUSSIANS FAIL, GERMANS REPORT.

Berlin, October 4.—(Via London.)—Russians continued yesterday their heavy assaults on the Austro-German lines. Today's official announcement reports the defeat of the Russians by the troops of Prince Leopold.

The statement follows:

"Army group of Prince Leopold: After the sanguinary breaking down of their attacks before the positions under the army of General Tersztansky, west of Lutsk (Volhynia) Monday the Russians suffered a fresh heavy defeat yesterday when the troops under Lieutenant General Schmidt von Knobelsdorff and General von Der Marwitz received the storming enemy who attacked several times with the assurance of calm victors. Not a foot of ground was lost. The Russian dead number thousands.

"Southwest of Rovno First Lieutenant von Cosser was landed by Pilot Windisch and brought back by him 24 hours later, after he had severed the Rovno-Brody railway line by the use of explosives.

"Army group of Archduks Charles Francis: There is nothing new to report."

Vienna, October 4.—(Via London.)—The following communication was issued today regarding operations against the Russians:

"Front of Archduke Charles Francis: Nothing has occurred.

"Front of Prince Leopold: The Russian attack against the army of General Tersztanszky became more spirited in the afternoon. The battlefield extends from Svinlusky to Klselin. The battle was as violent as on the previous day, and with similar result, namely, complete failure for the enemy, whose losses were extraordinarily heavy. The report of the battle emphasizes the brilliant conduct of the tried Austrian landwehr infantry regiment 24."

Rumanians and Russians Are Heavily Attacking Von Mackensen's Forces in Dobrudja, and Fresh Gains Are Reported.

ALLIES ARE ADVANCING ON MACEDONIA FRONT; BULGARS ARE RETIRING

Berlin Admits Gains for the Serbians—The Allies Have Already Recaptured Considerable Area of Serb Territory—Bucharest Reports Success for Rumanians in Transylvania.

New York, October 4.—(By Associated Press European Cable.)—Heavy fighting is in progress on the Rumanian and Macedonian front, the advantage resting with the forces of the entente allies.

Bucharest is still silent with regard to the operations of Rumania's troops, which crossed the Danube river between Rustchuk and Turtukal, and invaded Bulgarian territory, but Berlin says these men have been hastily withdrawn in the fear of being encircled by the forces of Field Marshal von Mackensen.

RUMANIANS GAIN IN TRANSYLVANIA.

Fresh gains by the Rumanians against the center and left wing of the Teutonic allies operating to the north in Dobrudja are chronicled by Bucharest. At Amacea a position of the Teutons was captured and with it more than one thousand men and seven guns and much war material.

In Transylvania, from Orsova, on the Danube near the Hungarian-Rumanian frontier, to the Bukowina border, numerous engagements have been fought. Bucharest claims successes for the Rumanian arms in the region of Odorkim, between Fogaras and Sighiscara, and in the mountains west of the River Alt. It is admitted that the Rumanian troops were withdrawn from the Jiul valley, but before falling back they destroyed the coal mines at Petroseny.

SERBIANS GAIN, BERLIN ADMITS.

The Berlin war office admits the retirement of the Teutonic allies before the Serbians to prepared positions near Lake Presba, on the western end of the Macedonian front, and also at Nize hill, north of Kaimakcalan height on the Serbo-Greek frontier, and that the British are maintaining themselves in positions they have captured along the Struma river, north of Lake Tahinos. In this latter region the British have added to their front the town of Jenikoi.

An unofficial dispatch from Paris says the Serbians, in addition to defeating the Bulgarians on Nize hill, have captured the Kessali railroad station. The Serbian territory recaptured by the entente allies, says the dispatch, now aggregates 230 square kilometers.

RUMANIANS QUIT BULGARIAN SOIL, GERMANS REPORT

Berlin, October 4.—(Via London.)—The Rumanian forces which crossed the Danube river between the Danube fortresses of Rustchuk and Turtukal have withdrawn hastily, says the official statement issued today by the German army headquarters, as the re-

Buy-Right Hints for the Housewife

Feminine Rights!

"To be adorable is woman's rightful heritage"—thus quotes a recent department store advertisement—and the mere sentiment of the phrase was immediately followed by a substantial provision for aiding in said adorableness in quoting some very low prices on some very high-class merchandise for the personal adornment of milady—and this incident was not a most happenstance, but almost a daily circumstance, for the advertising pages of The Constitution to herald some choice, seasonal articles on which prices have been greatly reduced.

These Atlanta merchants of ours are a mighty live set of folks, who are always looking towards the vantage side of Mrs. Housewife's many needs—and they use the columns of The Constitution to elucidate the fact.

NOTE—The CONSTITUTION guarantees a marked saving on every purchase made in Atlanta in stores that advertise their lowest prices in these pages.

sult of encircling movements put into operation by Field Marshal von Mackensen, the commander of the forces of the central powers and their allies in Dobrudja.

The statement says:

"German and Bulgarian troops of the army of Field Marshal von Mackensen delivered an encircling attack with the result that the Rumanian forces which crossed the Danube near Rjahovo, south of Bucharest, withdrew in hasty flight."

RUMANIANS GAIN IN DOBRUDJA BATTLE.

Bucharest, October 4.—(Via London.) The Rumanian war office today issued the following in regard to operations in Dobrudja:

"On the southern fronts in Dobrudja, in spite of the stubborn resistance of enemy and the violent fire of his heavy artillery, our attack continues to make progress in the center. On our left wing we conquered a position at Amzacea, where we took seven guns, more than 1,000 prisoners and much material."

Petrograd October 4.—(Via London.) Russian troops are continuing their offensive against the forces of the central powers and their allies in the Rumanian province of Dobrudja, says the Russian official statement issued today. Russian gunboats on the River Danube have bombarded the left flank of the Bulgarian army near Rachova, which lies about 14 miles south of Tchernavoda. The text of the statement says:

"Dobrudja: Russian gunboats bombarded the left flank of the Bulgarian army near Rachova, which is beyond Tchernavo on the Danube.

"Our offensive in the region of Rachova, Tzopadin and Terveli continues."

BULGARS TAKE DANUBE ISLAND.

Sofia, October 3.—(Via London, October 4.)—The Rumanians who have crossed the Danube and invaded Bulgaria are described as "considerable units of troops" in an official statement issued by the war office today which, however, does not report any clash between the Bulgarians and the invaders. The text of the statement follows:

"Danube Front: We occupied the island of Malakalafat on the Danube opposite Vidini. We bombarded with success the post and barracks at Kalafat, near the village of Giudioin, and dispersed by artillery fire a detachment which was preparing to entrench. Near the village of Rahove the enemy succeeded in throwing a bridge over the river by which he was able to convey across considerable units of troops. Austrian monitor destroyed the bridge at the Dobrudja side.

"In the Dobrudja the enemy's offensive on the Resihaul-Amzatzia-Perveti line was stopped by our fire. Counter attacks on the right wing ended in the repulse of the enemy, who was driven back to his former positions. An enemy battalion was practically annihilated and two officers and one hundred men who survived were taken prisoner.

"Black Sea Coast: A hostile torpedo boat unsuccessfully bombarded the town of Mangulia on Sunday."

RUMANIANS CLAIM ANOTHER VICTORY IN TRANSYLVANIA

Bucharest, October 4.—(Via London.) The Rumanians have inflicted a further defeat on the Germans and Austrians in Transylvania, the war office announced today. The Teutonic forces were defeated in an engagement in the region of Fogaras.

Austro-German attacks near Odorkim were repulsed and the Rumanians took more than 1,200 prisoners. The announcement follows:

"On the northern and western fronts in the Kaliman and Churghiul mountains small engagements occurred.

"In the region of Odorkim there were engagements in which the enemy was repulsed. We took prisoner fourteen officers and 1,228 men.

"Between Fogaras and Sighisoara our forces were engaged against German and Austrian troops, which were defeated. We took 800 prisoners and captured eight machine guns.

"In the mountains west of the river Alt we made progress. In the Jiul valley our troops have been slightly withdrawn by reason of the violent attacks of the enemy. Before falling back they destroyed the coal mines of Petroseny, which constituted the enemy's objective.

"At Orsova (on the Danube near the Hungarian-Rumanian frontier) we repulsed three enemy attacks."

TEUTON REPORT ON TRANSYLVANIA.

Berlin, October 4.—(Via London.)—The German war office today issued the following in regard to operations in Translyvania:

"In the Georgeny valley (Translyvania) the Rumanians made several vain attacks. West of Parajd they gained advantages. We are before Fogaras.

"West of Caneni, at the southern exit of Rothenthurm pass, fighting took place with Rumanian troops, the latter having been dispersed during the battle of Hermannstadt. Enemy attacks in the Hatzeg mountains were unsuccessful. West of Oboro height our allies gained ground."

Vienna, October 4.—(Via London.)—The official statement from general headquarters issued today reads:

"Rumanian front: On the heights of Petroseny several Rumanian attacks were again shattered. The enemy left 60 prisoners in our hands.

"South of Hermannstadt a Rumanian battalion which was still wandering about has been annihilated. East of the Rothenthurm defile the frontier crest has been reached at several places. Further eastward the Austro-Hungarian and German forces are pushing towards Fogaras.

"On several sectors in Transylvania on the east front Rumanian attacks have been repulsed. Only on the Little Kukel could the enemy advance his position."

ALLIES CONTINUE TO DRIVE BULGARS ON MACEDONIA LINE

Paris, October 4.—"The Serbian, French and Russian forces are continuing victoriously their advance," says today's war office statement, regarding operations on the Macedonian front.

"During Tuesday night they attained the Petalino line, on the western slope of Kaimakcalan. In the Loop of the Cerna, on the Kenali-Negochani line their left wing holds Pisoderi, at the front of Mount Cecebe.

"In the valley of the Struma the British repulsed violent attacks at Jelikoil (Yenikeui)."

Paris, October 4.—The Serbians have crossed the Tcherna river and defeated their adversary on the Nize mountain in Serbia and also captured the Kessali railroad station, according to advices received here. The Serbian territory recaptured now embraces 230 square kilometers, including seven towns.

French and Russians also continue victoriously their forward movement.

BRITISH TROOPS PUSH FORWARD.

London, October 4.—British troops yesterday morning pushed forward from their new positions near Karajakeui, on the west bank of the Struma river in Greek Macedonia, and captured a part of the village of Yenikeui, says an official statement issued by the British war office today. The Bulgarians launched three counter attacks and fighting for the newly won position still is in progress.

The text of the statement follows:

"Saloniki: Early yesterday our troops advanced from our positions near the Karajakeui villages and captured the part of Yenikeui which lies to the south of the Seres road.

"The Bulgarians attacked immediately but their first counter attack was broken up by our artillery fire. The second attack had no more success than the first and never approached closer than 1,000 yards. During the evening a third attack, preceded by a heavy bombardment, was made with fresh troops and fighting continues. Severe casualties were inflicted on the enemy."

BERLIN ADMITS LOSS OF GROUND.

Berlin, October 4.—(Via London.)—German and Bulgarian forces on the western end of the Macedonian front, where heavy fighting with the Serbians has been in progress for several weeks, have again fallen back. Today's official statement reports the withdrawal of troops near Presba lake to prepared positions. The statement follows:

"Between Presba lake and the Nize hill north of Kaimakcalan height our troops have withdrawn to positions in accordane with orders. Fighting continues on the Nize hill.

"Northwest of Lake Tahinos the enemy is still maintaining himself in Karazakoj, on the left bank of the Struma."

BULGARS REPORT ARTILLERY DUELS.

Sofia, October 3.—(Via London, October 4.)—The Bulgarian war statement in regard to operations in Macedonia says:

"Macedonian Front: East and west of Florina there was lively artillery activity without any infantry action. In the Molenica valley there was artillery, infantry and machine gun fire. On both sides of the Vardar there was weak artillery activity which became more violent south of Lake Doiran. At the foot of the Belaschitza mountains there was quiet. On the Struma front there was violent artillery fire on both sides and the fighting near Karadjakoi continues with stubbornness."

BLOODY STRUGGLE RAGES IN GALICIA

Morval and St. Pierre Vaast woods on the Somme front has been captured by the French, the war office announced today. Three hundred prisoners were taken.

"North of the Somme," says the official statement, "we completed the capture of a powerful line of German trenches between Morval and the St. Pierre-Vaast woods. We made about 300 prisoners, including ten officers.

"South of the Somme there was a lively enemy bombardment of the region of Belloy-En-Santerre. The night was calm on the rest of the front.

"Bad weather interfered with aerial operations on the greater portion of the front."

The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads:

"There was no event of importance on the whole front. In the Somme region the customary cannonade occurred, more intense in the environs of Belloy and Assevillers. Our infantry advanced east of Morval.

"In Alsace there was a duel with trench weapons at Barrenkopf and Reich Ackerkopf."

TOWN TAKEN BY BRITISH.

London, October 4.—The war office announced today that the town of Eaucourt L'Abbaye on the Somme front, for possession of which heavy fighting has been in progress for esveral days, is now entirely in the hands of the British.

The announcement follows:

"Eaucourt L'Abbaye has been cleared of the enemy and is entirely in our hands.

"During the night there was considerable shelling on our front south of the Ancre. Otherwise there was no change. A heavy rain has fallen since morning."

The British official communication issued tonight says:

"South of the Ancre hostile artillery has been active, especially against the neighborhood of the Zollern redoubt and between Gueudecourt and Eaucourt l'Abbaye. Half way between the last named points the enemy attempted a bombing attack, but was driven off, leaving wounded outside our line. In the last 24 hours in this area twenty-one prisoners have been taken.

"There has been considerable shelling south of Ypres of men in the roads. Elsewhere on our front the day was quiet. Rain continued throughout most of the day."

GERMANS CLAIM BRITISH REPULSE.

Berlin, October 4.—(Via London.)—The allied attack along the Somme front resulted yesterday in further fighting near Thiepval and Mouquet farm. The repulse of the British is reported in today's official announcement.

Following is the statement:

"Army group of Prince Rupprecht: On the battle front north of the Somme during the day the artillery engagement increased steadily in intensity, attaining its greatest height during the afternoon in the Morval-Bouchavesnes sector. Strong French attacks against our positions on the Sailly-Rancourt road at St. Pierre Vaast wood and in adjacent parts of the wood to the southeast thereof were repulsed, partly in hand grenade engagements. One officer, 128 men and two machine guns fell into our hands.

"British attacks near Thiepval and Mouquet farm were repulsed easily."

ITALIANS REPULSE AUSTRIAN ATTACKS WITH HEAVY LOSSES

Rome, October 4.—(Via London.)—The war office today issued the following statement on military operations:

"On the entire front the artillery has been active. Enemy batteries were notably active in the Gorizia area and on the Carso. In the Travignolo-Avisio valley, after intense artillery preparation, the enemy launched determined and repeated attacks on all our positions on the heights on the southern side. Everywhere they were driven off with heavy losses.

"On the northern slopes of Col Bricon our troops made a vigorous counter attack and succeeded in gaining new ground towards the mountain called Col Bricon Piccolo (Little Col Bricon.)

"Hostile aircraft dropped bombs on Monfalcone and elsewhere on the lower Isonze, killing one man and wounding another. One of our air squadrons dropped bombs with good effect on the Nabresina railway station in the Carso area."

Vienna, October 4.—(Via London.)—The Austrian war office today issued the following:

"Italian theater: On the Carso plateau the enemy carried out artillery and mining operations during the afternoon which increased to great strength at night. The activity in this section is considerably livelier than usual.

"Early today the enemy attacked astride Oppachiasella and penetrated our foremost trenches, but was immediately ejected.

"An Italian air squadron unsuccessfully dropped bombs in the region of Macresnl.

"Carinthian front: The enemy bombed several localities in the Gail valley. Our artillery replied. In the Fleims valley there was artillery firing. A hostile attack in the Col Bricon region resulted in no advance owing to our fire. On Monte Cimone we dug out six machine guns.

"Albanain front: There is nothing to report. On Tuesday our seaplane squadron successfully dropped heavy and light incendiary bombs on military objectives at San Gansiano and Staranzano. All the seaplanes returned despite counter attacks."

DUBLIN BONDS BOUGHT BY ATLANTA COMPANY

Dublin, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—Dublin sold $30,000 worth of municipal bonds for building and equipping a filter plant in the waterworks system this afternoon at a premium of $2,722.55, or at the rate of 109.085. This is the highest price ever paid for Dublin bonds, and is evidence of the city's standing in the financial world. The bonds are of the thirty-year, 5 per cent class. The Trust Company of Georgia, in Atlanta, was the highest bidder, although twelve other firms bid, including three Dublin firms. The sale was very satisfactory to the city. The filter plant will be built at once.

Chicago has 6,085 lawyers, a gain of 228 in a year.

FINE WEATHER PROMISED FOR YAARAB CEREMONIAL

Special Train Leaves at 8 This Morning for the City of Dalton.

Rain in Dalton, Ga., today?

It simply will not be permitted to happen; moreover, the weather man has sworn by the beard of the prophet that it isn't going to occur. Anyhow, Jimmy Scott says Dalton is so high up in the mountains that all the rain clouds are far below the town, and besides rain will not interfere with the pilgrimage of Yaarab temple to the mountain oasis.

So, ye of the True Faith, who went to bed last night in fear and trembling, need have no fear of the day. Get into your glad regalia and hike to the Terminal station, for the special Yaarab train leaves over the Southern railway at 8 a. m., and you haven't time to read The Constitution this morning unless you do it on the way.

The great barbecue in Dalton will be held under cover, the ceremonial will be held in a great circus tent, and thousands of people of northwest Georgia will be in the city to participate in the glad occasion when Yaarab temple takes possession of the city, ousts its chosen rulers and proceeds to run things on the Shrine plan for a period of ten hours.

Don't forget to put your 1916 Shrine card in your pocket. If you have failed to get one see the recorder on the train and fix it up with him.

How to Keep Your Car Looking Fresh and New

Never use ordinary soaps and cleansing reagents for washing your car, as they will invariably destroy the gloss cause checking of the varnish and make the car look dingy and old. Use only Magiclean automobile cleanser, specially prepared for the purpose. A handful of Magiclean, costing only a few cents, in a bucket of water, quickly cleanses and brightens, and preserves the paint, making an old car look almost as good as new. Get Magiclean at any auto supply house or garage, or send ten cents for sample to Magiclean Company, Atlanta, Georgia.—(adv.)

Aitken, Riding Goodyear Cords, Shatters World's Record!

Captures Astor Trophy in Sheepshead Bay Speedway 250-Mile Classic

Rickenbacher Also on Goodyear Cords a Close Second

Catapulting along the edge-to-edge board course at Sheepshead Bay Saturday at the rate of 104.66 miles an hour, a world's record for the distance, Johnny Aitken drove his Peugeot to victory in the Astor Cup Race over a field of 31 starters.

He rode on Goodyear Cords!

And he won on Goodyear Cords!

Desperate competitors thundered at his hubs every mile of the way—a treacherous tire might have meant defeat—but he won—his Goodyears did their splendid part.

They stood the burning, tearing, grinding, rending punishment of 250 miles over edge-to-edge boards at a 104.66-mile pace—and victoriously!

Aitken's victory is not an isolated instance of the unflinching stamina of Goodyear Cords. The racing records of the past three months are formidable with additional proof.

Proof, not alone of stamina—though this is paramount—but of speed, spring, and exultant vitality.

Proof of the very qualities that led to the adoption of Goodyear Cord tires as standard equipment on the Franklin, the Packard Twin-Six, the Locomobile, the Peerless, the White, the Haynes Twelve, the Stutz and the McFarlan.

Proof of the qualities that make these tires better.

BIRMINGHAM TO BE HOST TO HIGHWAY DELEGATES

Birmingham, Ala., October 4.—(Special.)—Every detail has been arranged for the meeting of the Memphis, Birmingham and Atlanta Highway association in Birmingham on October 6 and 7. An unusual amount of interest has been aroused in this convention in the states of Mississippi, Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama, which this great highway will traverse. Some of the most active good road advocates from these states have written to Secretary J. A. Rountree stating they will head delegations to this convention.

There is considerable rivalry in the route of this highway from Birmingham to Memphis. Three routse are proposed. One is via Tuscaloosa; one via Jasper, Hamilton, Guin, Haleyville, Amory, New Albany on to Memphis. Another route is from Jasper via Russellville, Tuscumbia, Sheffield, Florence and on to Memphis.

There is equally as much interest in the route from Brimingham via Leeds to Pell City. From Pell City there are three routes proposed. One is via Talladega, one via Anniston, and another via Sylacauga, Dadeville on to Atlanta. Information has been received that delegates from all of these points will be in attendance, which will make the convention quite interesting.

There is another question that is attracting much attention and enthusiasm. It is proposed to name this highway for some prominent citizen. The names suggested are Wilson, Bankhead, Wheeler, Gordon, and the Central South highway.

The Jefferson county branch of this association will act as host on this occasion. This branch is arranging for a smoker and luncheon to be given the delegates at the Tutwiler hotel on Friday night, October 6, at 7:30 o'clock.

The Congregational union, of Scotland, has decided to pay a war bonus to certain of its ministers and to begin after the war a central fund of $150,000 or $200,000 to augment stipends.

MORE MEN NEEDED BY GREAT BRITAIN

To Maintain Forces in the Field and Man Munitions Plants—Talk of Conscription for Ireland.

London, October 4.—Great Britain is in urgent need of men for her armies and also for her munitions factories. A statement to this effect was given out by the Man Powder Distribution board, recently appointed to comb out men eligible for military service in the United Kingdom who have not yet been enrolled in the army.

The board reported it had examined officials of the admiralty, war office, ministry of munitions and other departments and that there was urgent need of fresh supplies of men for the armies and munitions factories in order "to maintain our forces in the field at the numbers already fixed for them and at the same time to maintain the supply of munitions essential for their equipment and proper utilization."

The board, therefore, directed that no exemption be granted certain classes heretofore exempt and that there be a more general dilution of skilled labor in munitions factories with women and other workers heretofore untrained. It suggested conferences of employers and employees with a view to freeing skilled labor now engaged in private work for employment in munitions plants.

"It is essential," the report says, "that a large part of the labor now engaged in private work shall be diverted to government orders or released for the army."

The board also has under consideration the extended use of women and of men over the military age and also the release of men of military age now employed in the government offices. This is the only means, the board says, whereby extension of the age for compulsory service can be avoided.

Robertson Calls for Men.

General Sir William Robertson, chief of the imperial staff at army headquarters, said in a speech today at Dalderby, Lincolnshire, that while the allies were winning the war slowly but surely he wished to impress upon his hearers the necessity of procuring more men for the army and munitions factories. In this connection, he said, he had a serious word of warning to give.

"We are not justified in expecting to win the war," he said, "unless the service of every man and woman in the country is utilized to the fullest extent.

"We must be under no delusion," he continued, "as to the end or probable duration of this great struggle. We must be prepared to continue for a time which cannot at present be estimated.

"In fact we must prepare for the worst while we hope for the best. We have adopted in theory the principle of national service. We must see that we put it into practice, because we want more men, and we want them now, and eventually we shall want all who can be spared."

No official figures have been given recently as to the number of men serving with the British army. On May 25 King George in signing the military service bill placed the number raised up to that time at 5,041,000. In July, August and September the British casualties were 307,169.

CONSCRIPTION FOR IRELAND.

London, October 4.—When parliament assembles next week the government will be confronted with new embarrassing proposals for the application of conscription to Ireland. The Times and other newspapers recently have been conducting a strong campaign with this object in view and the decisions announced today by the Man Powder Distribution board and by General Sir William Robertson, chief of the imperial staff, that more men are urgently needed, will, it is believed, strengthen the hands of the agitators, who have been joined by Sir Edward Carson.

Sir Edward asserts that the situation is such that without conscription in Ireland it will be impossible to even maintain the Irish regiments at the front in their proper strength. He contends that Ireland could provide another half million men of military age, and asks what the colonies, which have made such sacrifices for the empire, will think of the shirking of Ireland.

While most of the responsible politicians are agreed that it would be inexpedient to attempt to apply compulsion to Ireland while home rule is withheld from it, undoubtedly in the present phase of the European war those who are demanding conscription hold a strong hand and the government may find it difficult to resist their demand.

The nationalists in reply to Sir Edward Carson point out that the colonies already have self-government and hence there is no analogy with the position of Ireland. They assert that Ireland will be found to be a united nation in resistance to compulsion.

The liberal newspapers consider the agitation another attempt to unseat Premier Asquith, and contend that while compulsion in Ireland would provide a few men it would provoke another first-class Irish crisis and throw Ireland into the hands of the Sinn Feiners.

MORTUARY

William Donaldson.

William R. Donaldson, aged 52, of 178 Glenwood avenue, died Tuesday at a private hospital. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. W. O. Sims; one son, Fred Donaldson, three brothers, J. S., Ezra and Emory Donaldson; six sisters, Mrs. J. A. Rutledge, of Acworth; Mrs. Gib Davis, Mrs. Robert Minor, Mrs. G. P. Donaldson, Mrs. L. C. Reid and Mrs. William Leftrich.

W. F. Southwell, Jesup.

Jesup, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—William F. Southwell died at his home in Jacksonville, Fla., yesterday. His body was brought to Jesup and interred in the city cemetery today. Mr. Southwell was in his eighties. He lived in Jesup until about fifteen years ago. He is survived by several sons and daughters.

"UNWRITTEN LAW" GIVES HIM FREEDOM

Mansfield, La., October 4.—A jury today acquitted Lex Davies of the charge of manslaughter for the killing on the street here several months ago of T. B. Herndon, wealthy garage owner and lumberman. The principal defense presented by Davies was the "unwritten law." He testified that alleged relations between Herndon and a sister of Davies led to the killing. Davies also said that while talking to Herndon the latter made a move as though to draw a revolver, and he shot him.

HUSBAND KILLS DOCTOR FOR INSULT TO WIFE

Luverne, Ala., October 4.—Dr. W. P. Knight was shot and killed by Byron B. Hill, of Rutledge, Ala., this morning on one of the principal business streets. Knight, it is claimed by Hill, insulted his wife. Hill fired five times, four shots taking effect. Hill surrendered to local authorities.

French Confident Of German Defeat, Asserts Rockwell

Letter Written Before the Death of Kiffin Rockwell Sent by Paul to Friends in Atlanta Telling of Aviator's Promotion.

The French are in fine spirit over the turn the war is taking, according to a letter just received in Atlanta from Paul Rockwell, former Atlanta newspaper man, who is now in Paris.

Paul Rockwell has served in the French foreign legion in the war, and his brother, Kiffin, who was in the Franco-American aviation corps of the allies, was killed last week. The letter was written September 15, before the death of Kiffin Rockwell.

"The war is running along well for us," writes Rockwell. "The allies have Germany on her back fighting for life. It is only a matter of months before the Huns will be so well licked that they will not trouble Europe for many another generation. Every day the allies are growing stronger, every day the boches are weaker. The spirit of France is more wonderful than ever. Her courage and heroism in holding Germany at bay until her allies were in shape to fight will be one of the finest pages of history when this is all over."

Kiffin Rockwell had just visited his brother in Paris and had returned to the front, and, as it has since developed to meet his death.

Paul wrote of his brother's visit:

Kiffin and his comrades of the American escadrille are in town this week. The escadrille is leaving the Verdun front, and taking a little vacation before going into Alsace, where the boys may be all winter. Kiffin brought down another Hun aeroplane Saturday, killing the gunner and the pilot, and he has been named second lieutenant. His advancement has been very rapid, and he has made a great name for himself over here. He has had several citations in the order of the army, and a number of decorations.

"There is a fine bunch of young American boys over here fighting for France, and the entire United States should be proud of them."

NEW AMERICUS CHURCH OPENS WITH REVIVAL

Americus, Ga., October 4.—(Special.) The new Lee Street Methodist church has opened with a revival, and the new institution occupies the unique distinction of being the only church in the history of the Methodist conference which has been built without a congregation. The revival is being led Rev A. W. Quillian, the pastor, assisted by Rev. LeRoy Brown, of Shellman, and Rev. J. A. Thomas, of Americus, pastor of the First Methodist church.

The membership is expected to be gained by transfers from the First Methodist church and converts during the revival.

Moultrie Councilmen.

Moultrie, Ga., October 4.—J. Frank Norman, Evans Reynolds and G. L. Doster were the winners in the municipal election held yesterday to name three members of city council. Five were in the race. The vote was as follows: Norman, 333; Doster 330; Reynolds, 307; O. A. Thaxton, 76; J. J. Roberts, 60. The new officials will be installed on October 17.

BARBARIC ACTS LAID TO RUMANIAN TROOPS

Details of Alleged Atrocities in Dobrudja Published in German Paper.

Berlin, October 4.—(Via Sayville.)—Further details of alleged Rumanian atrocities in Dobrudja, says the Overseas News Agency, are contained in a report from the Sofia correspondent of The Frankfurter Zeitung, who, with several other correspondents and William Warfield, the American charge d'affaires at Sofia, investigated reports in Dobric (Bazardjik) Silistria and surrounding towns and villages. The correspondent writes:

"Everywhere we followed traces of assassination and incendiarism and everywhere there was the same complaint about the loss of life and property. Entire villages were destroyed by fire and large quantities of corn, as well as people of all classes, were carried away, partly by violence and partly by false promises. The prettiest girls were driven into the Rumanian trenches, where they were assaulted and then murdered, especially in the neighborhood of Silistria. Women and children were locked up in houses and then either burned to death or shot. It has been proved that the Rumanians ravaged the country in an indescribable fashion on the direct command of their superiors.

"Before the declaration of war 25,000 people and the same number of carts filled with food were taken from Dobrudja. In a village north of Dobric Rumanians assassinated thirty-eight Bulgarians and thirty Turks and carried off sixty-four other men. A village south of Dobric is a heap of ruins and only 20 of 130 houses remain undamaged.

"Conditions also were bad around Silistria, where the villages of Kalipretovo, Aidemi, Sreberna and Babuk were destroyed. The number of civilians killed, wounded and transported from Dobrudja is estimated at about 60,000."

1 PRIEST KILLED, 2 HURT IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Peoria, Ill., October 4.—Father E. J. Schuetz, chancellor of the Catholic diocese of Peoria, was killed; Right Rev. Edmund M. Dunne, bishop of Peoria, suffered a dislocated shoulder, and Very Rev. James V. Shannon, vicar general of Peoria, was slightly injured when an automobile in which the churchmen were going to a confirmation ceremony turned over into a ditch today near Princeville. Father Schuetz was pinned under the car and his neck broken.

MANY WEEVILS FOUND IN MONROE COUNTY

Forsyth, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—A representative of the department of entomology recently made an inspection of a number of farms bordering Forsyth, and on each found the boll weevil. Since that time this pest has been found on farms in all parts of the county. The weevil reached Monroe too late to do any material damage this year, but the crop will be damaged considerably next season. Despite the fact that the cotton crop, as a whole, is short, the crop in Monroe will be above the average. It is expected that this county will gin at least a thousand bales more than last year.

2 KILLED AND 3 INJURED WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO

Memphis, Tenn., October 4.—Edward Peterson and Williamm Green, both of Jonestown, Miss., were killed and three other persons were injured when an automobile in which the men killed and two of the injured were riding was struck by a Yazoo and Mississippi Valley train at Penton, Miss., near this city late today. James Green, who was driving the car, was seriously injured. Partee Fleming, of Memphis, who also was in the automobile, was slightly hurt, and a man named Kirtle, who was standing near the tracks, was struck with such force by the body of one of the men killed that both of his legs were broken. All of the injured were brought to hospitals here.

FARMER AND BRIDE HELD FOR KILLING FIRST WIFE

Garden City, Kan., October 4.—Fred M. Gilmer, a wealthy farmer, and his bride were placed in jail here today charged with having poisoned Hanna M. Gilmer, the man's first wife who died two months ago. They were arrested on information filed by William Harris, son of the dead woman.

Cotton Manufacturers.

Charlotte, N. C., October 2.—The executive committee of the American Cotton Manufacturers' association, in called session here today, selected Washington, D. C., for the annual convention of the association May 22 and 23, 1917.

DROWNING MAN SAVED BY NEWFOUNDLAND DOG

Richmond, Va., October 4.—Rover, a Newfoundland dog owned by Joe Gianotto, a river boatman, last night saved the life of Elmer Godwin, of Norfolk, who slipped off a launch from which the men were angling for night fish. Rover dived in, seized the sinking man's collar, and pushed him up against the boat where Gianotti could help them both aboard. Godwin cannot swim and Gianotti says Rover seemed to know it.

Webster Court Opens.

Americus, Ga., October 4.—(Special.) The fall term circuit for Judge Z. A. Littlejohn, of the southwestern court, has begun this week with court in Webster county. L. J. Blalock, of this city, is acting as solicitor general for J. R. Williams, who is ill. The circuit includes Webster, Stewart, Schley, Lee, Macon and Sumter.

The Telling Effect

Of Our Preparations For The Golden Jubilee Month

The other day we spoke of the preparations that began back in the summer for the celebration of our Golden Jubilee month. We told how we pitched our activities on a higher, finer plane than was customary with most stores on their anniversaries; how we had gone into the markets with our eyes and minds open only to the WORTHY, the NEW, the GENUINE, the PURE GOLD of merchandise, the things that were in keeping with the best traditions of a business that has been trying, trying, trying to do better and better for fifty years.

Today our preparations are coming home with telling effect.

With the store itself at its best, bedecked with the simple, the symbolic goldenrod, with the merchandise displayed in all its wonderful richness and distinctive newness, the store is a point of interest and more—it is vantage point of safety for women planning their wardrobes for autumn.

We could very easily take several pages of this newspaper to tell the story of how we gathered this, our greatest and loveliest storeful of merchandise—the suits, the dresses, the coats, the corsets, the lingerie, the blouses, the junior and children's apparel; all the little things, such as neckfixings, gloves, hosiery, jewelry; the linens and beddings; the home-beautifiers, such as artistic furniture and hangings and lamps and bric-a-brac—their news is big and interesting; but today let us tell you particularly of

The Silks

First, the commercial side—we were protected on so many of the things that could be bought long months ago. It is a fact that a great quantity of the velvets, the taffetas, the satins, the charmeuses and the Georgette crepes that you will find here are well under the market price. It is also a fact the novelties, the exclusive novelties we are showing for the Golden Jubilee, are beautiful beyond words!

Plaids and stripes that have woven into them the richness of autumn colorings; flowered silks that rival nature; brocades, metal embossed silks—all are now ready!

The Millinery

Through the assistance of that little shop that has carved a niche for itself in the "millinery row" in New York, Estelle Mershon, of 20 East 46th st., we have for the women of Atlanta the hat successes of the season!

As soon as Paris sends Estelle Mershon a style, and that is immediately that Paris adopts one herself, Estelle Mershon sends it or minute descriptions to us. And so the loveliest, long before they are generally known.

And for the Golden Jubilee we set about the making up of a group of "suit-hats" that we could call exceptional at $10, $12.50 and $15. See them.

MRS. GRACE ROGERS GAINED 42 POUNDS ON FIVE BOTTLES

Only Weighed 117 Pounds When She Began Taking Tanlac—Now Weighs 159 Pounds—Quit Taking It Five Months Ago.

"I quit taking Tanlac about five months ago after I had gained forty-two pounds on the medicine. It simply made a new woman of me, and I feel as well today as I did the day I took my last dose."

The above remarkable statement was made to a Tanlac representative Wednesday by Mrs. Grace Rogers, traveling representative for the Leslie-Judge Co., 923 Austell building, Atlanta. Mrs. Rogers covers the states of Georgia, Alabama and Florida and is well known over the territory.

"I just don't think it would be right if I didn't give you my statement for publication so others will learn what this wonderful medicine will do," continued Mrs. Rogers. When I lived in Chattanooga, Tenn., in November, 1914, I had an awful attack of double pneumonia which left me in a dreadful run down and weakened condition. For weeks it looked like I would never get on my feet again. I wasn't able to do any kind of work for four months. I had no appetite and the little I ate did more harm than good for my digestion was awful. I couldn't sleep to amount to anything and was so nervous the least little thing would make me want to scream. Gas would collect around my heart and at times I could hardly get my breath. My complexion was bad and I didn't have hardly any life in me, I kept losing weight and wasting away until I only weighed a hundred and seventeen pounds.

"Friends of mine who had taken Tanlac told me it was a wonderful medicine and urged me to try it. I did, and it did me so much good I don't believe I will ever quit praising it as long as I live. I began to improve from the very start. My appetite picked up wonderfully and I was soon eating anything I wanted and everything agreed with me. The indigestion as well as the nervousness left me, my complexion cleared up and I began to gain in weight. I kept right on with the treatment and after I had finished the fifth bottle I realized that I was a well woman, and as I felt no further need for Tanlac I quit taking it.

"I have to make a good many small towns and in my work have to put up with all kinds of hotel fare, but I've always got a good appetite and eat as much as anybody else and I'm never bothered with indigestion now. I sleep soundly all night and get up in the morning feeling fine. I now weigh a hundred and fifty-nine pounds, which is more than I ever did in my life and I feel simply fine."

Tanlac is sold in Atlanta exclusively by Jacobs' Pharmacy.—(adv.)

URGES CONFERENCE ON TROLLEY STRIKE

Edward McMorrow Declares That Car Men Are Not Responsible for Commission of Unlawful Acts.

Edward McMorrow, member of the executive board of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, who has been detailed by the national organization to handle the strike situation in Atlanta, proposes that a committee from the Atlanta Federation of Trades or from the local street car employees' union meet with a committee of citizens or a committee of officials of the Georgia Railway and Power company and thrash out the differences that exist between the employees and the company.

"There are two sides to this question," he said, "and both the company and the striking employees have their rights. I would like to see the situation so arranged that both the employees and the company would be satisfied," he said.

"We are asking the right to organize. Such a right is constitutional and cannot be arbitrated. Still there are other phases of the situation that could be submitted to a board of arbitration to be appointed by this conference that I propose.

"The street car employees want to organize for the purpose of improving their living and working conditions. They are human beings and have as much right to educate their children and bring them up under improved conditions as anyone.

"Our organization does not approve of rioting and disorder and the local instances of such will be found to have been the work of irresponsible parties who are not connected with the union in any way. We want to settle this matter peacefully and I believe a meeting of such committees, as I propose, after considering the situation calmly and rationally, will arrive at an adjustment fair to all parties," he said.

"There is a feeling here that outsiders have interfered in this matter. We came to Atlanta at the earnest solicitation of employees of the company who have been petitioning us for years to help them organize and improve conditions here. Neither myself nor the national association would wilfully destroy any property nor harm anyone. We are here to help the local employees organize and to help them settle their differences amicably."

Mr. McMorrow proposes that the committee of the Atlanta Federation of Trades and the committee of citizens or officials of the Georgia Railway and Power company meet today at some convenient place and discuss the situation. In case this arrangement is not agreeable he is willing to meet any official of the company himself and talk the matter over with him.

MOB AT EAST POINT CAUSES TROUBLE

Grant Park, Capitol and Forrest avenue lines, all of which operated under twenty-minute schedule. The routes which resumed operation on regular schedules were the Decatur, East Lake, South Decatur, Stone Mountain, Buckhead, Marietta and Soldiers' Home lines.

Will Not Treat With Strikers.

At a meeting of the officers of the Georgia Railway and Power company late Wednesday afternoon, it is said the organization stood as a unit to maintain its position in the pending strike agitation, and, furthermore, to refuse to confer with William Pollard, Hardy Teat or their associates in reference to an adjustment of the strike situation.

The trolley service is fast regaining normal, and officials Wednesday expressed the opinion that the men engaged in the strike agitation were so rapidly being discouraged that the difficulty would blow over even sooner than expected. Cars were operated last night on curtailed schedule, but the service gave ample accommodations. Only one line, the River route, was abandoned.

Rumor Branded False.

A rumor, charged by the trolley company to have been put into circulation by strike agitators, to the effect that an altercation had occurred between President Preston Arkwright, of the railway, and E. S. Simmons, superintendent of traffic, the latter of whom is dangerously ill, having suffered a heart attack Tuesday morning, was denied.

Branding the rumor as absolutely false, and of being of malicious origin, President Arkwright Wednesday afternoon dictated for publication a statement that, rather than have Mr. Simmons resign, even if such an act were contemplated, he, himself, would first sever his connections with the company. The statement follows in full:

Arkwright's Statement.

"Mr. S. E. Simmons, superintendent of this company, is sick at home, having gone to his home sick Monday night about 11 o'clock. He is expected out in a day or two.

"Taking advantage of this situation, a rumor has been circulated for the purpose of creating the impression that there are dissensions among the officers of this company. One of these rumors is that Mr. Simmons and I had a fight, and that Mr. Simmons had resigned from the company. These statements are absolutely false and maliciously circulated, and are without the slightest foundation in fact. There is not even any slightest cause which could lead a person to imagine that I have had or could ever have a fight with Mr. Simmons.

"I most heartily approve his entire course and all his acts in connection with the present labor troubles, and all the matters leading up to it. I have been associated with him for fifteen years. He is the best superintendent of a street railroad that I ever knew. I could not have a fight or a difficulty with him, even if I had a difference of opinion with him. I feel that I and the company owe him too much ever to get into any difficulty with him of any kind.

"So far as resigning from the company is concerned, I would rather resign myself than to permit Mr. Simmons to resign, as the company could very much better afford to lose me than to lose Mr. Simmons. There is, however, no chance of either of us rsigning, and not the slightest foundation for the rumor. Every officer of this company is in thorough accord with the policies of the company and there is not even any slightest difference of opinion about anything that has been done or proposed."

Simmons Makes Denial.

In addition, a statement was made by Mr. Simmons to a reporter for The Constitution, who conferred with the superintendent at the latter's home. When Simmons' statement was read by Inspector L. Q. Meadors to a crowd of men in the starter's office shortly before nightfall, it was received by a burst of cheers.

"There have been many lies circulated by outside parties yesterday and today for the purpose of trying to influence some of our men," reads the Simmons statement. "Taking advantage of the fact that I was sick yesterday, and did not appear at the office, they at once started a rumor that Mr. Arkwright and I had had a quarrel.

"Today they have added that I resigned. Mr. Arkwright and I never have had a cross word in our lives, and I never except to leave this company now nor at any time in the future. Every officer in this company is united in this fight until we have won it. Taking advantage of my sickness is in line with the dirty work of some parties in going to the men's houses and frightening their wives and children.

"It is the same policy that tries to pull a man off his car by force and abuse to gain their end. These rumors are insults to the intelligence of our men. There are other rumors circulated such as that we are going to bring in professional strike-breakers. These are lies. There will be other rumors from the same source from time to time. We are using Georgia boys in our work and will continue to do so."

Car Service Continues.

Car service continued Wednesday. Most of the lines were operated on 40-minute schedule last night, while others ran every 30 minutes. An addition of twenty-five deputy sheriffs was added to the number put on the cars Tuesday night. In instances where deputy sheriffs were not available, cars were operated with double crews.

The citizens' committee, which held a rousing meeting Wednesday at noon in the chamber of commerce assembly hall, declined to appoint a committee for the purpose of arbitrating the street car difficulties, adopting resolutions maintaining a neutral policy. An invitation to labor men to meet with the organization, however, not as union representatives, but as citizens, was submitted to R. E. Gann, president of the Atlanta Federation of Trades.

Strike sympathizers sawed down a pole on the Marietta interurban line just across the Chattahoochee river bridge early Wednesday morning, causing considerable delay in the operation of that route, but failing to impair service the remainder of the day. Many reports of greased tracks were sent to the starter's office, but there were few, if any, demonstrations by crowds.

Resolution of Citizens.

The resolution of the citizens' committee is as follows:

"Whereas, it has been reported to the executive committee on public safety that certain disorders have occurred on the streets of Atlanta in connection with the trouble between the Georgia Railway and Power Company and certain of its former employees.

"Resolved, first, That this committee on public safety puts itself on record as being organized for the purpose of co-operating with public officials for the enforcement of law and order in this county. Atlanta has always been a law-abiding city. Its progress has been entirely due to the co-operation between all elements of its citizenry. The purpose of this committee is to preserve this unity of action between all elements of Atlanta's citizenry. It has neither fear nor favor for any faction. Its sole purpose is for the preservation of harmony and for the perpetuation of law and order in the community.

Arbitration Suggested.

The suggestion of arbitration was first brought into the meeting by W. S. Wier, who, with a committee from the Atlanta Federation of Trades, had come to the meeting under invitation. The committee was composed of R. E. Gann, J. R. New, T. E. Ball and Jerome Jones.

"I am authorized to tell you," said Mr. Wier, "on behalf of the overwhelming mass of organized tradesmen in Atlanta, that our organization favors the preservation of law and order. In my opinion the situation can be cleared and all differences settled in eight or ten hours. I suggest that a committee from this citizens' committee meet with a committee of the Atlanta Federation of Trades."

Later W. L. Peel arose, saying in reference to this point:

"Mr. Arkwright, president of the Georgia Railway & Power Co., has repeatedly said that he is not willing to meet with any committee of Mr. Pollard's, or any of Mr. Pollard's associates. Under no circumstances should this citizens' committee afford to meet with any committee of Mr. Pollard's."

Mr. Wier replied:

"I want to correct a wrong impression. I personally know 450 native southerners whom are on a strike. These men themselves sent for Mr. Pollard. They are fighting and have been fighting for several months for political and industrial freedom."

Hold Parade Today.

A noon parade will be held by the striking carmen and sympathizers today at 12 o'clock, following the granting of permission by Mayor James G Woodward. Plans have been perfected by William Pollard, the Springfield Ill., agitator, who is heading the street car strike. The permit was given W. B. Honea, secretary of the tentative street carmen's union.

The parade will lead through the principal streets and will be headed by a union band. Pollard said last night that it would include at least 500 striking carmen and a great number of striking electricians.

The police department announced that there would be adequate police service to prevent disorder.

In reference to the parade, the Georgia Railway and Power company has issued the following statement:

"The parade Thursday will be composed of all the people who can be induced to join it, whether discharged employees of this company, or so-called striking employees, or so-called sympathizers, or what-not. As many of them will wear caps as caps can be found to put on them, in order to make it appear that they all are striking former employees. In all, there probably will be a greater number of these than the total number ever employed at one time by this company.

"The company's answer to this demonstration is that the street cars are operating in the hands of more than 800 regular and permanent employees."

NATIONAL CABINET TO MANAGE GREECE

King Accepts Resignation of Present Ministry—Adherents of Venizelos in New Cabinet.

Athens, October 4.—(Via London.)—King Constantine presided over the crown council held at the palace this morning to consider written opinions of the situation submitted by each minister, to which the minister's resignation was appended, to be accepted in case the opinions were unsatisfactory to the monarch.

The minister of the interior, Loucas Roufas; the minister of communications, Lysandro Koftand Joglou, and the minister of justice, M. Vokotopoulos, opposed Greece's entry into the war.

The king promptly accepted the resignation of the entire ministry for the purpose of forming a national war cabinet, which will include three of the adherents of ex-Premier Venizelos.

Demetrios Diamantidis, minister of communications in the Venizelos cabinet, was called to the palace to advise the king respecting the Venizelists to be chosen. The former president of the chamber, Constantine Zavitsanos, and the former minister of the interior, M. Kafandaris, are under consideration in addition to M. Diamantidis.

The following official statement regarding the cabinet situation was issued today:

"The government not having succeeded in getting into touch with the representatives of the entente powers and considering that the situation hinders progress in national questions has begged the king to accept its resignation. The king has accepted the resignation of the government."

London, October 5.—"Former Premier Venizelos," says The Daily Mail's Canea, Crete, correspondent, "has been sounded from Athens by a personage close to King Constantine as to whether, in the event of war being declared on Bulgaria, M. Venizelos would demand the premiership in a cabinet of his own choosing or be content to support a coalition cabinet in which his party is represented, or whether he would support a cabinet which, not containing members of his party, would declare war and act generally along the lines of his policy.

"M. Venizelos answered that he was ready to support any cabinet which would put Greece's forces in the field beside those of the entente powers. The former premier said he wanted no cabinet post for himself or for his followers."

Cotton at Bowdon.

Bowdon, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—Cotton brought 17 cents on the streets here yesterday. The little town is crowded, business is rushing and a general air of prosperity obtains as a result of the high prices paid for the staple.

The Nacoochee on Her Way.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., October 4.—After being held up here since Sunday with an anchor chain wound around her propeller shaft, the steamer Nacoochee, bound from Boston to Savannah, proceeded today.

AGREEMENT AT CHATTANOOGA.

Chattanooga, Tenn., October 4.—Members of the local street railway employees' union today voted to accept the Chattanooga Railway and Light company's refusal to establish a "closed shop" and authorized a contract to be signed tomorrow by which the company offers to give preference to employment of union conductors and motormen. The union acted in accordance with the advice of Mayor Littleton, who entered the carmen's meeting this afternoon and urged abandonment of a proposed strike declaration.

AT ONCE! STOPS STOMACH MISERY AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy Stomachs feel fine.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

URGE CHANGE IN WEIGHT FOR MINIMUM CARLOAD

Manufacturers Anxious That Salt Weight Be Raised to 30,000 Pounds.

Randall Clifton, assistant freight traffic manager of the Southern railway, Wednesday presented for the railroads, at the rate hearing before the Georgia railroad commission, the carriers" proposed commodity rates on canned goods and pickles, setting forth commodity scales on carloads and less than carloads materially lower than the class rates. The adoption of these commodity scales would mean some advances on canned fruits and vegetables, but would effect reductions locally, said Mr. Clifton, far greater in amount on a heavy and important movement of canned goods.

The proposed commodity scale would advance the present rates on canned fruits and vegetables, carload, for all distances up to 200 miles, except in a few instances, but would reduce the rates for distances in excess of 280 miles, and would represent an advance for all distances for less than carload shipments.

Would Reduce Rates.

On other kinds of canned goods, however, the proposed scales, both carload and less than carload, would materially reduce the rates prescribed by the Georgia commission.

Rates on canned fish, meats, jellies, preserves, etc., by the adoption of the proposed commodity scales would be made lower than the present class scales, with the exception of the rates on pickled fish, shipped in wood, in which instances there would be advances which Mr. Clifton characterized as few and unimportant.

The proposed scales for pickles, sauces, vinegar, etc., would also result in reductions, with the exception of the rates upon vinegar, carloads, in barrels and kegs.

The carriers are proposing a mixed car for "sweets and sours," a mixing privilege not now provided for either in the interstate or the Georgia intrastate freight regulations.

A motion was made to amend the original petition in respect to a number of descriptions proposed for application to shipments of canned goods.

Mr. Clifton cited the rates on canned goods in other southern states, and also the interstate rates to show that the rates being asked in Georgia are reasonable.

Changes in Salt Rates.

W. J. Tompkins, of Chicago, representing a dozen or more large manufacturers of salt in the middle west, appeared before the Georgia railroad commission Wednesday morning, at the rate hearing, and urged the commission to adopt the proposal of the railroads that the minimum carload weight for salt be raised from 20,000 to 30,000 pounds.

Mr. Tompkins stated that the salt manufacturers of the west are asking the Georgia commission to make this change in order that they may compete with salt manufacturers of New York state on more nearly equal footing for Georgia business. He explained that, under present conditions, it is practically impossible for the western manufacturers to compete in Georgia.

The carload in the west is considerably higher than in Georgia, and must be complied with by the western shippers of salt, while the eastern shippers are able to ship to Savannah and Brunswick by water and then use the lighter carload in Georgia.

In reply to a series of questions from M. M. Caskie, representing the Georgia Shippers' association, Mr. Tompkins stated that, while the increase in carload minimum would not like eliminate entirely the advantage of the eastern producers over the western producers, it would go a great deal to ameliorate the situation, the canal situation in New York at present being such as to more nearly equalize the cost of transportation. He stated that the western shippers are not seeking to deprive the eastern shippers of any of their natural advantages in supplying salt to Georgia territory.

At the afternoon session J. N. Steadwell, assistant general freight agent of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, began the presentation of proposed rates on packing house products and meats, which will be completed at Thursday's session.

Only Purest English.

Incidentally, all other witnesses for the carriers yield the palm to Mr. Steadwell for the polysyllabic magnificence of his testimony. Mr. Steadwell is an Englishman and insists upon using only the purest brand of the well known queen's English. It remained for Chairman C. M. Cander, of the commission, to lend a touch of Georgia color to his testimony Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Steadwell was discussing rates on various packing-house products, when he came to chitterlings, he hesitated for a moment—

"Chitter—Chitter—" said Mr. Steadwell.

When he had "chittered" for the second time the chairman relieved him of his dilema, and said:

"Chit'lin's!"

And "chit'lin's" it is in the record!

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

A Well Known Actress Tells How She Darkened Her Gray Hair With a Simple Home Made Mixture.

Miss Blanche Rose, a well-known actress, who darkened her gray hair with a simple preparation which she mixed at home, in a recent interview at Chicago, Ill., made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound, and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the required shade. This will make a gray-haired person look 20 years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of hair, and relieves itching and dandruff."—(adv.)

Atlanta's Supply Of Boys and Girls Will Not Go Around

Time-Honored Custom of "Chaperoning the Children" to the Circus Creates Great Demand for Youngsters as Date of Big Show Draws Near.

WANTED—To borrow, buy, beg or purloin one small boy, same to be at liberty either Monday or Tuesday. Applicants must be fond of peanuts, red lemonade, elephants and spotted ponies. Experience wholly unnecessary. Splendid opportunity for right lad. Address Circus Bug.

There is consternation in Atlanta!

With the elephants only 5 days away a hurried canvass has revealed the tragic fact that the Capital City hasn't nearly enough youngsters to go around.

The awful truth was yesterday verified by a reporter who set about visiting homes in various parts of the city. Carefully compiled statistics show that at least six grown-ups will accompany every child to the circus. There's little Millie who lives out on Peactree street, for instance.

"Millie will not be 2 until next May," said Millie's mother, when interviewed. "But the dear darling does love the circus so. And so Uncle John is going to take her and he's invited husband and me to go along with them. And Aunt Jennie and Cousin Lucy are going, too, and so is one of our neighbors who hasn't any little one of her own. I just know the darling is going to enjoy every minute of it. You see, it would never do to let her go alone."

The reported found any number of "Uncle Johns." Said one of them: "Why, I tell you it's part of every child's education to go to the circus and learn about tigers and lions and spectacles and things. Personally I don't care a thing about it but that nephew of mine is going. Yes, sir, he's going, even if I have to carry the milk bottles myself!"

And so it is promised that at a ratio of "6 to 1" there will be a wild scramble for youngsters when the circus calliope begins to toot next Monday morning. The sole consolation seems to lie in the fact that the circus is to exhibit in Atlanta for two days instead of one this trip and that there is just a chance that some of the kiddies won't mind seeing it twice, with different convoys of chaperons.

THREE CORDELIANS HELD FOR SMASH-UP

Cordele, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—W. H. Tuggle, James Hall and J. L. Odom, young white men, were bound over at a preliminary hearing yesterday to the superior court on charges which developed from a smash-up on the public highway near Raines between an automobile driven by Tuggle and a wagon. It is alleged that the young men, all of whom were occupants of the car, were drinking, that they were running at rapid speed and without lights. It is further charged that when the wagon was overturned, severely injuring Mrs. Pete Bradley, G. V. Williams and wife and another party, the young men failed to stop and render assistance or give their names, as required by law in such cases. Mrs. Bradley's leg was broken in two places and she was internally injured. Her condition is said to be critical.

HOUSTON KAOLIN MINE WILL DOUBLE OUTPUT

Perry, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—The Houston Kaolin company, a corporation of Fulton county, operating and mining kaolin about two and a half miles west of here is installing a $5,000 plant to enable them to supply the demand for the product.

M. A. Simmons, manager and W. J. Short, foreman, are kept busy superintending the mining of the kaolin. They work about 40 hands at the mine and their pay roll is over $360.00 a week. They find ready sale for their product, shipping two cars daily. The kaolin mined is of the finest quality, and the supply seems unlimited. With the completion of their new plant they will be enabled to more than double the present output.

STATE EDUCATION BOARD MEETS NEXT SATURDAY

At its regular quarterly meeting to be held in the office of the state superintendent of education Saturday morning, the state board of education will have two matters of interest for consideration. One is the provisions of the recently enacted Yeomans' school book law which goes into effect on January 1, and the other is an appeal from J. B. Hattaway, contesting his removal by the Oconee county board of education as a member of the board trustees of the North High Shoals school in that county.

Three charges were preferred against Hattaway leading to his removal. They were opposition and embarrassment to other members of the board, failure to make a proper financial report, and refusal to turn over records and funds to his successor. The case against him has already been decided adversely by Superintendent Brittain on the ground that only issues of fact were involved and that the action of the county board was equivalent to a jury verdict against him, which, following the analogy of the courts of review, should not be disturbed on appeal where there is any evidence to sustain it.

The new school book law authorizes county boards to provide free school books, if they can find the funds to do it with, and also to lease, sell or rent school books. It further provides that no publishing company shall sell in Georgia books at a higher price than they are sold elsewhere. This latter feature is now covered in the contract made by the board with publishers for books adopted for use in the country schools, but the new law will apply to books used in the city school systems, high schools and other schools.

DODGE COUNTY FAIR TO OPEN OCTOBER 17

Eastman, Ga., October 4.—(Special.) All arrangements and details for the holding of the Dodge County fair, October 17th to 21st, are practically complete. Work has been finished on the seven big fair buildings, race track and grandstand. Exhibits are now being put in place and everything will be in readiness when the gates swing open on the first day. Indications are that the Dodge County fair will be the most complete and comprehensive exposition of the resources of this section ever held in south or central Georgia. Many splendid specimens of blooded cattle, swine and horses will be on exhibit. The work of the boys' corn and pig clubs, girls' canning clubs, boys' and girls' poultry clubs and woman's work, will also have a conspicuous place among the exhibits.

Aeroplane flights will be made twice daily, and there will be fireworks in the evenings. One of the largest carnival companies in the United States has been engaged to furnish the midway attractions. The horse races each day on a very fast half-mile track are attracting the attention of the entire section.

FAIR WEATHER TODAY, ASSERTS FORECASTER

It will be fair today, according to the local weather man. The report declared that local rains might be felt in some portions of the state. Wednesday morning there was a slight drizzle.

The sub-tropical storm off the coast is reported as central off Savannah and Charleston. Light rains have been reported from Jacksonville to Hatteras. Temperatures will remain about the same. A rise in temperature has been felt during the last few days. The highest recorded Wednesday was 74 degrees with the lowest recorded at 56 degrees.

GOOD CROP OF CORN RAISED IN GWINNETT

Norcross, Ga., October 4.—(Special.) Notwithstanding the farmers of Gwinnett county suffered greatly by floods during the months of July and August, when hundreds of acres of corn were ruined, it is now assured that the county will produce three-fourths of a normal crop of corn, on the ridge lands. The cotton crop is short, but the farmers are rejoicing over the advanced price. More hogs have been raised than usual. Hundreds of acres will be planted in wheat and other small grain. More alfalfa has been planted than ever before.

MISS BERCAW ELECTED LIBRARIAN AT CORDELE

Cordele, Ga., October 4.—(Special.) Miss Helen Brewer, who for the past three years has been head librarian at the Cordele public library, has tendered her resignation to the board of trustees of this institution to accept a position as chief classifier in the public library at Savannah.

The board of trustees have elected Miss Louise Bercaw as Miss Brewer's successor. She has taken a course at the Atlanta library training school and is well equipped for the position here.

Train Kills Negro.

Bainbridge, Ga., October 4.—(Special.) John Stanford, a negro laborer on the Georgia, Florida and Alabama railroad, was crushed to death beneath an engine here yesterday afternoon. Stanford had just a moment before warned another negro to be more careful, jokingly remarking that he would be killed. His head was entirely severed from his body and one leg was cut off.

Wedding of Miss Mignon McCarty And Brooks Morgan Brilliant Event

The marriage of Miss Mignon McCarty to Mr. Brooks Morgan took place last night at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Weyman McCarty, on Ponce de Leon avenue. Rev. Arthur Hale Gordon performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by the family and friends. A reception followed.

Mr. Coleman Morgan, of New York, the groom's brother, was best man. Miss Margaret McCarty, the bride's sister, was maid of honor. Mrs. Lawrence Ford, of Newark, N. J., was matron of honor. The bride's brothers, Messrs. Rucker McCarty and George Weyman McCarty, Jr., were the ushers, and led the bridal party as they descended the stairway, crossed the entrance hall into the drawing room, where the ceremony was performed. The matron of honor followed; then the maid of honor, preceding the bride, accompanied by her father. The groom and his best man met the party at an improvised altar.

After the reception an elegant supper was served, the bride's table having gathered around it a party including Mr. and Mrs. Rucker McCarty, Mr. and Mrs. George McCarty, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ford, Miss Margaret McCarty, Miss Elizabeth Dunson, Miss Bessie Jones, Mr. Coleman Morgan, Mr. Lauren Foreman and Mr. W. H. Taylor, of Washington, D. C.

The Bride's Gown.

The bride's gown was one admirably suited to her beauty and grace. The material was white satin and satin brocaded in silver. The skirt had its front panel of the silver brocade, and draperies of satin slightly bouffante on the sides, were drawn into the back over which hung a train of the silver brocade draped from a few inches above the waist line. The corsage of chiffon and satin was embroidered in silver threads in a flower design, each flower centered by a brilliant set in silver petals. Her veil of tulle was draped from her low coiffure, and caught with orange blossoms, and her bouquet was of white orchids showered in valley lillies.

The maid of honor's toilet was in silver lace, with draperies of pale tinted orchid satin lined with a corresponding shade of hayacinth blue. The corsage of silver lace was over orchid and blue tulle and there was a finish given in rhine stones.

The matron of honor wore a white tulle and lace gown embroidered in pearls with draperies in orchid and blue tulle. Both matron and maid of honor carried purple orchids showered with lillies.

Mrs. McCarty, the bride's mother, wore a cloth of silver gown, in which was woven a design of silver flowers.

Mrs. Rucker McCarty and Mrs. George McCarty, Jr., who assisted in receiving the guests, were beautifully gowned, Mrs. Rucker McCarty wearing a blue satin gown draped in apricot tulle embroidered in gold. Mrs. George McCarty wore a brocade moire silk in the rainbow tints, the corsage softened by draperies of tulle embroidered in silver and brilliants.

The Decorations.

Most artistic were the decorations with the Easter lily, the gold-lighted Lady Hillington rose, and purple orchids combining in the general scheme. In the drawing room, where the ceremony was performed, there were banks of palms on each side of the high mantel. At its base were palms softened by the foliage of fern. The cabinet was a mass of delicate foliage of maidenhair fern, at the base of the mirror which reflected the lights of tapers burning unshaded in silver candelabra. Above the mirror was a completing decoration in an arch of the ferns. Showing in impressive beauty against the banks of palms, were tall, white urns holding Easter lilies, their white blooms standing high, while falling and clinging to the urn were graceful garlands of Lady Hillington roses with here and there a touch of contrasting color in a purple orchid, or a spray of laceratum.

In the dining room adjoining there was a radiant touch of color in the rich foliage of the collias which combined with fern in decorating the cabinets. In the sitting room the same decoration prevailed, with the Easter lily still the bridal flower in vases and baskets. Two high baskets filled with lilies surmounted the newel posts, and there were the same flowers at the base of the windows. Garlands of smilax decorated the chandeliers and the arches of windows and doorways, and there was a luxury of palms and fern furnishing a back for the poem of color the bride's table suggested in the sun parlor.

The Bride's Table.

The bride's table, circular in shape, had in the center a sunken garden of pink and purple orchids. From the center of the garden arose a tree luxuriously in bloom with Lady Hillington roses, with here and there in the foliage tiny gold-lighted electric lights. On the inner circle of the table was an elevated plateau in the roses. Half way between the roses and the place plates were slender vases hung with tulle and holding orchids and valley lilies. Between the vases were silver candlesticks, shades of crystal softening their lights. Souvenirs for the ladies at the bride's table were white ostrich feather fans, to the stems of which were attached the place cards in white, lettered in silver and ornate with clusters of orange blossoms. Souvenirs for the gentlemen were small card cases attached to the place cards.

In the table appointments and menu, the color suggested subtly was always that of the Lady Hillington rose and orchids.

On the terraced porch which was canvassed in, on the front and on the side, the fall flowers in yellow combined with fern as a decoration. There were yellow hanging baskets filled with fern and flowers, and all the lights were shaded in yellow flower petals. Here the guests were served. Punch and coffee were served here and in the dining room.

Mrs. Warner Martin had charge of the guest book, and the bride's book, out of which the ceremony was read, was made of the same material as her wedding book. The bookmark of silver cloth was from a piece of her mother's gown.

Out-of-Town Guests.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stephens of Summitt, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ford of Newark, N. J., Mrs. John Hazard of Newark, N. J., and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Morgan, of Lexington, Ky.; Mr. Coleman Morgan of New York, Mr. Percy Pyne of Princeton, N. J., Messrs. E. C. Stone and Harry Raymond of New York, and Mr. W. H. Taylor of Washington city.

Popular Young People.

The marriage of Miss McCarty and Mr. Morgan was one in which a broad social interest centered in the south and among a large group of friends in the north. The bride is one of the most beautiful women in the south, and one whose sweetness of character and nature have won for her a loyal admiration not only in social life, where she is a leading spirit, but among those in less fortunate condition. In the many handsome gifts which were lavished upon her, there was none which she more cherished than a basket of pink and white cosmos, from the crippled children at the Home for Inourables. Since her debut several years ago, she has made her favored charity work an interest in the comfort of these little invalids who are the sunshine of the institution. They wrote her in sending the flowers: "With a heart full of love to one who as sweet as these blossoms. Love and blessings from Render, Ross, Lonie and Bessie."

Mr. Morgan, a native of Lexington, Ky., has resided in Atlanta over twenty years. Since that time, he has been a factor in every good movement for the city's constructive life, whether along lines civic or social, and he is a leading spirit in the industrial development of the south. He is president of the F. E. Block company, and a director in a number of business institutions.

Drama League Study Class.

The Drama League Study class will meet in the assembly room of Carnegie library this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Miss Susie Wells will read "The Gauntlet," by Bjornson. Mrs. Hugh Harris will give a critique of the drama.

Alliance Francaise.

The Alliance Francaise will reopen its regular meetings this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock promptly in the Carnegie library. New members will be admitted. Dues are good for twelve months.

After several announcements Mme. Slifer will begin the reading of the play, "Catherine," by the academician, Henri Lavedan. The play will be given next month in New York at the Theater Francais, Cecile Sorel, one of the stars of "La Comedie Francaise," taking the part of "Catherine." That actress is called by the elect society of Paris the arbiter of elegance. Her interpretation of "Catherine," who is simplicity and at the same time pride itself, is wonderful.

Sames-Johnston.

Of interest to the friends of the bridegroom in Atlanta is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Mary Sames, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William James Sames, and Mr. Albert Sidney Johnston, U. S. A., which took place September 18 in New Orleans.

Mr. Johnston, a lieutenant in the Ninth infantry, was for a while stationed in Atlanta and he made many friends here. He is a grandson of the distinguished confederate general whose name he bears.

Woman's Club Scholarship.

The music committee of the Atlanta Woman's club held an important meeting Tuesday afternoon at Cable hall for the purpose of awarding a music scholarship. This scholarship was offered by Mrs. Maybelle Wall through Mrs. P. J. McGovern. It was won by Alice Callaway.

The members of the committee present included Mrs. A. R. Colcord, Mrs. J. N. McEachern, Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin, Mrs. Benjamin Elsas, Miss Susie Wells and Mrs. P. O. Kerlin.

Music Study Club.

There will be a regular meeting of the Music Study club this morning at the club rooms in the Phillips & Crew building. Mr. Joseph McLean, head of the department of music in Agnes Scott college, will be chairman of the program and will give a most instructive address on the life of Beethoven. Miss Van Gelder will sing and Miss Frances Stovall will play.

There will be a meeting of the sight reading division of the club at 9 o'clock and of the chorus at 10 o'clock. A full attendance at both meetings is urged.

Greenwood School Parent-Teacher Association.

The Parent-Teacher association of Greenwood school held its first meeting September 29, with about 65 members present. Everybody was filled with enthusiasm for the year's work before them. Plans were made for splendid programs and good speakers will be heard. Committees were appointed and new members welcomed by the president.

The officers are Mrs. A. W. Waldman, president; Mrs. Leslie Hubbard, vice president; Mrs. Harry Hermance, recording secretary; Mrs. L. A. Hawkins, corresponding secretary; Mrs. George Adair, treasurer.

For Miss Van Hook.

Mrs. Marion T. Benson will entertain at bridge Tuesday afternoon at her home on Springdale road, Druid Hills, in compliment to Miss Eleanor Van Hook, of St. Louis, who is visiting Mrs. Philip McDuffie. Miss Sarah Bell gives a small bridge party Monday afternoon at her home on Peachtree street, for Miss Van Hook.

Tea-Dance.

A company of one hundred and twenty-five attended the tea-dance which was an enjoyable occasion of yesterday afternoon at the Piedmont Driving club. Several parties were in compliment to visitors. There were a number of informal games of bridge at the club in the early part of the afternoon, the players remaining for tea and dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip McDuffie entertained for their attractive guest, Miss Eleanor Van Hook, of St. Louis. Invited to meet her were Miss Louise Broyles, Miss Helen McCarty, Miss Patty McGehee, Miss Eloise Robinson, Dr. E. G. Ballenger, Mr. Norman Cooledge, Mr. John Hardisty, Mr. Curry Moon, Mr. Remsen King.

Mrs. Harriett D. Cole entertained a small party of friends for Mrs. Heywood Hansell, of New Mexico, who is the guest of Mrs. Andrew Hansell. Mrs. Turner Fitten, Miss Louisa Duncan, of Columbia, S. C.; Mrs. W. H. Glenn and Mrs. Evelyn Harris formed a party.

Mrs. Stuart Witham, Mrs. Hughes Spalding, Mrs. E. M. Durant and Mr. Sam DuBose were among others who entertained small parties of friends.

Miss Betzner in Children's Theater.

Miss Era Betzner has returned to the city after a summer's work in New York with some of the best-known teachers and directors of the metropolis. She is opening a studio immediately in the Phillips & Crew building and will give a six weeks' course in dancing and pantomime, after which she will return to New York to become associated with the Children's Educational theater of Columbia university.

Mrs. Hutchinson to Read.

On Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Atlanta Woman's club Mrs. Merrill Hutchinson will read Enoch Arden, with musical setting by Richard Strauss. The entertainment is for the benefit of the work of Wesley house for factory children. Admission, 50 cents.

Electa Chapter to Meet.

Electa chapter No. 6, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a regular meeting Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the Masonic temple. After the business meeting the following program will be rendered and a social hour enjoyed:

Instrumental solo, Mrs. E. O. Radford; reading (selected), Miss Marie Belle Dean; vocal solo, Mrs. F. R. Connell; saxaphone selection, Mrs. Wesley Hirschburg. All members of the order most cordially invited to be present.

Atlee-Rigsby.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hilton Atlee have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Mr. John Colson Rigsby on Friday, October 13, at high noon, at the First Methodist church, Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Harmon to Entertain.

Miss Dorothy Harmon will entertain at a small luncheon on Monday at the Piedmont Driving club in compliment to Miss Mamie Ansley and her guests, Miss Virginia Jenkins, of Suffolk, Va., and Miss Lil Hodgson, of Athens.

To Miss Blalock.

Mrs. George W. Walker will give a small tea next week at her apartments in the Georgian Terrace in compliment to Miss Mary Blalock, a bride-elect, and other pretty entertainments are planned for Miss Blalock.

Golf Luncheon.

Mr. Jackson Dick will be the guest of honor at a golf luncheon to be given Sunday at Druid Hills Golf club by the gentlemen who are to be the groomsmen at Mr. Dick's marriage on Tuesday to Miss May Atkinson. They are Mr. Milton Dargan, Jr., Mr. Frank Martin, Mr. Jesse Draper, Mr. Dozier Lowndes, Mr. Harry M. Atkinson, Jr., Mr. Inman Gray, Mr. Frank Inman and Mr. Albert Howell, Jr.

Luncheon to Executive Board.

The meeting of the executive board of the Atlanta Woman's club will be held on Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. N. McEachern.

Following the business meeting Mrs. McEachern will entertain the board at luncheon.

Heade-Ables.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Heade, of College Park, announce the marriage of their daughter, Annie Maye, to Mr. Woodford H. G. Ables on Saturday afternoon, September 23, at the home of Rev. O. L. Jones, pastor of the East Point Baptist church.

The marriage was quietly solemnized and Miss Margaret Phillips and Mr. Robert Smith were the only attendants.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Heade.

Mr. and Mrs. Ables will be at home to their friends at 324 Luckie street.

Capital City Club.

Among those attending the dinner-dance at the Capital City club Tuesday evening were:

PRACTICAL ARTS COURSE TRAINING SCHOOL GIRLS

Board of Managers of Georgia Training School for Girls Arranges New Course.

At the recent meeting of the board of managers of the Georgia Training School for Girls, Mr. Wilmer L. Moore, chairman, it was decided to inaugurate at once in the system of the home the teaching of the practical arts. A beginning will be made in the teaching of rug weaving and baskets, and in the making of fans.

Miss Minnie Reese Richardson, of Montgomery, Ala., a member of the faculty of the Elizabeth Mather college, is the instructor who will inaugurate the work. She will teach at the Georgia Training School for Girls four hours each week from now until the first of February.

The board asks herewith through the press, that the friends of the Georgia Training School for Girls send any silk or wool materials, scraps and materials of any kind with which the rugs can be woven, to the home. The art of rug weaving may be said to have evolved from the old time "rag" carpets which served in their day a very useful purpose.

The hand-woven rugs are now a fad in the country and bungalow and summer camps. Many women vie with one another in the beauty of their hand-woven rugs and other household furnishings similarly made.

Also it is asked that feathers be sent to the home for the fashioning of fans and fire screens. It is almost turkey-killing time, and the turkey tail fan has its place not only in art, but in literature and certainly in the hearts of those who can recall "ye olden time." Guinea feathers can be made into pretty things, and there is a rage for fans and screens and similar ornaments which can be made of the gloriously lighted peacock feathers.

Mrs. George Howard is chairman of the ladies' committee organized last year for aiding in making the Georgia Training School the worthy institution it is proving to be. Any further information of the subject may be obtained from her.

Appointment of Judge.

Governor Harris yesterday announced the appointment of George L. Gould as judge of the city court of Carnesville for Franklin county for a term of four years beginning from the date of his commission. The court was recently created by action of the grand jury of Franklin county under the code section providing for the creation of county courts.

Special Sale of 250

Sport Coats

Women's---Misses'---Girls'

On a recent trip to New York, an overheard conversation just happened to put our buyer in touch with a manufacturer who had been compelled to cancel an order just ready for shipment.

It was a fortunate thing for us, because they were bought at almost an unbelievable figure, in this day of scarce garments, and it required only a few words between them to close the deal and place the coats in transit to Atlanta.

Frankly, we discussed whether it was best to sell the coats at their real worth or create excitement by offering them at a round price for choice of the lot.

It looks like a ten-strike, says the manager; let's give them something to talk about for weeks:

---choice $6.95 each---

Let the conversation begin

Made of a variety of sport fabrics, including velours, in several distinct patterns and a large range of light and dark colors. Small checks—medium-size checks—large checks—stripes—mottled effects—tweed mixtures.

They are the popular and much-wanted full flaring box coats with large sailor collars, which can be worn open at the neck or buttoned close up to the throat. Full sleeve styles finished with deep cuffs and ornamental button trims.

A few of the light and dark colors are shown in the window today, and we wonder how long they will last at this price.

GEORGE L. GOODE MADE FRANKLIN COUNTY JUDGE

Governor Harris has appointed and commissioned George L. Goode, of Carnesville, as judge of the newly located city court of Franklin county.

COUNTY BOARD URGED TO PAVE PEACHTREE

Plan Proposed by Citizens' Committee Will Be Considered by Board Committees.

After hearing from a committee of prominent taxpayers and citizens, the county board of commissioners at its meeting yesterday referred the proposition to appropriate $31,000 to pay the city's part of the amount needed to repave Peachtree from the Whitehall street viaduct to Pine street to the public works committee and the finance committee. These committees, on motion of Commissioner S. B. Turman, are to consider the proposed appropriation and report later.

The new plan provides for the repaving of Peachtree from the viaduct to Pine street with granite cubes laid in a concrete foundation, and from Fifth to Fifteenth streets with granite cubes laid between the car tracks and sheet asphalt on both sides of the tracks. The total cost is estimated to be $116,000, the greater part of which is to be borne by the property owners along the streets and the Georgia Railway and Power company.

The contract for the paving of Peachtree from Fifteenth street to the city limits at Brookwood has already been let to T. D. Meador, Jr., the county having agreed to assume the city's share of the expense.

The county commissioners also have under consideration the repaving of Peachtree from the city limits to Buckhead. When the proposed improvements are completed it will give the main street of Atlanta a new dress throughout its whole course.

The petition was presented by E. H. Inman, John E. Murphy, John W. Grant, W. H. Kiser and Edwin F. Johnson.

Great Interest Shown In Revival Meetings At the Alliance Hall

Considerable interest is being manifested in the revival meetings which are being held at 79 Capitol avenue under the auspices of the Christian and Missionary alliance. The sermon last night was preached by the Rev. F. H. Rossiter, who arrived yesterday from Winston-Salem, N. C. He will alternate with the Rev. D. J. Fant, well known as the engineer-evangelist, in conducting the services. Mr. Fant preaches tonight and Mr. Rossiter tomorrow night, and so on through next week.

The annual district convention of the alliance will be held at 79 Capital avenue, beginning October 15 and continuing through October 22. There will be a number of preachers and missionaries in attendance, and several states will be represented.

WILL REDEEM STAMPS.

Revenue Stamps Will Be Redeemed by Uncle Sam.

Regarding a statement given out a few days ago by A. O. Blalock, United States collector of internal revenue, bearing upon the redemption of revenue stamps in the proprietary and documentary class, announced as redeemable in all amounts above $2, Mr. Blalock received an order yesterday to the effect that all such stamps may be redeemed regardless of quantity or value.

It is explained that the first notice was issued upon the basis of the old law, which fixed the minimum for redemption at $2; whereas this limit is removed by the new law, so that any person having bought proprietary or documentary stamps, under the emergency revenue tax law, may, upon presentation of them at the office of the collector, with the cost of transmissal of them to Washington by mail, registered mail or express, have them redeemed in cash, regardless of the amount.

MANY JITNEY DRIVERS FORCED TO BUY LICENSE

License Inspector C. L. Wooddall is a busy man. He is rounding up all violators of the jitney ordinance. During the last day or two a large number of persons operating jitneys without licenses have been found by the inspector.

Up to noon on Wednesday about forty men had appeared at the city hall to answer for their actions in operating without a license. In every instance they were allowed to take out a license.

Inspector Wooddall points out that it will be much cheaper in the long run for men operating jitneys to purchase their licenses at this time. In this way they will save the possible trouble of having to pay the amount of the license twice, once to the judge of the police court and once to the city. He promises that cases will be made against those persons who show an inclination to avoid the license.

EGYPTIAN GOOSE COMES TO THE GRANT PARK ZOO

The Grant park zoo has been increased by the addition of an Egyptian goose, the gift of Dr. C. R. Arnold, of Dahlonega. The goose arrived at the zoo a day or two ago.

Dr. Arnold was in the city some time ago and, on visiting the zoo, was informed that one of the Egyptian geese had died. He then told Manager Cochran that he would send him a goose to mate with the one left in the zoo. Dr. Arnold has also sent to the park a rare specimen of orchid.

He is a prominent citizen of north Georgia, and was the successful candidate in the recent state primary for the legislature from Lumpkin county.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR DEKALB CO. ONE-DAY FAIR

The DeKalb County One-Day fair will be formally opened at noon, Tuesday, October 24th, by which time all exhibits will be installed, ready for inspection by the judges, who will immediately begin the work of making awards to successful exhibitors. The fair will be closed at noon, Wednesday, October 25th, with a great parade of the public schools, university students and college girls, Boy Scouts, Campfire girls, Boys' Corn club, Girls' Canning club, Poultry club and Pig club. All prize-winning live stock will also be exhibited in the parade.

Fair headquarters have been opened in the office of the Decatur Board of Trade, in charge of Walter T. Daniel, as executive secretary. Farm Demonstrator R. S. Hunter is acting as field agent for the DeKalb County Fair association and is receiving daily entries of live stock, poultry, agricultural products, agricultural floats and woman's work.

Wednesday, October 25th, has been set aside as Home-Coming day by the DeKalb County Fair association in cooperation with County Commissioner R. J. Freeman and the mayors and councils of the various towns of DeKalb county.

On this day all old DeKalbites will be expected to meet their old friends and kinsfolk in Decatur at the one-day fair.

DEAF AND DUMB YOUTH SOUGHT BY THE POLICE

Claiming that he is trying to get enough money to pay for his expenses at a school in Savannah, and bearing a letter indicating the same, a young man, who, it is said, has been pretending to be deaf and dumb, has been recently going about the city soliciting aid. Wednesday the police were told that he had been to the office of S. W. Bacon in the Inman building, while Mr. Bacon was out and prized open a drawer in his desk, taking therefrom a Colt's police pistol, 32-caliber and disturbing a number of papers.

POISON AFFIDAVIT WILL NOT BE USED IN M'NAUGHTON CASE

The report that an affidavit from Mrs. Mattie Flanders to the effect that she administered the poison to her husband would be used in the effort to secure a pardon recommendation from the prison commission for Dr. W. J. McNaughton was denied by F. H. Saffold, of Swainsboro, McNaughton's attorney, yesterday. Mr. Saffold was passing through Atlanta en route to Lawrenceville, where he was going to take some depositions for the Central railroad in a suit against the road.

The attorney said that he did not believe such an affidavit had been made and he would not credit it, if it had, his theory of the case having always been that the arsenic found in Flanders' body was contained in the embalming fluid. He said that he would soon renew his application for clemency for McNaughton, who is serving a life term in the state penitentiary for murder.

Nujol For Constipation

AS CLEAR AS CRYSTAL

Hold a bottle of Nujol up to the light. Its crystal transparency is without a flaw. Every trace of impurity, every vestige of color or "bloom" has been removed by varied and many times repeated processes of refining.

Nujol is water-white, tasteless and odorless. It neither looks, tastes, nor smells like "medicine." As a matter of fact it isn't medicine at all, in the ordinary sense. It is not a laxative or a purgative, is not absorbed by the system, hence doesn't form a habit. It acts in effect as an internal lubricant, softening the contents of the intestines and so promoting normal movements.

All druggists carry Nujol which is manufactured only by the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). Avoid substitutes. Write today for booklet "The Rational Treatment of Constipation."

A CORNER IN HIDES.

Every consumer is aware of the extraordinary increase in the price of leather. Every purchaser of a pair of shoes has learned to his regret that shoes cost him today anywhere from 25 to 50 per cent more than he was accustomed to pay for them a year or two ago.

European war demand has undoubtedly had something to do with the increased cost of leather. But now another cause, closer home, is hinted at. We are told that the big meat packing houses are holding up the hides and feeding them out for consumption at topnotch prices.

If this is true it would look as if it were a question for federal trade commission inquiry. Despite the demand for meat and the high prices it is bringing, there is no indication of a meat shortage. With plenty of meat it likewise follows there is much leather.

It might be well to inquire, therefore, if there exists an actual corner in hides, a holding game that mulcts the public every time it buys a pair of shoes!

Such a condition might very easily exist, and not only that, but it could prove also a most powerful factor in fixing the price of the finished product to the consumer.

There is no article of clothing that has advanced in price to the consumer to anything like the extent that have shoes. So far as the average purchaser knows or can tell from appearance and wearing qualities, a $3 hat this year is just about the same as a $3 hat last year and the year before. It is the same way with a $15 suit of clothes, or a suit at almost any other price; the same with a dollar necktie or a 50-cent pair of socks.

But the $3.50 shoes of last year or the year before are the $5 shoes of today; while the $5 shoes of last year are now $7 and so on up. Where is it going to stop? Likewise, who and what are responsible for it?

It cannot be attributed wholly to the war demand for leather. Indications certainly point to an interesting subject for inquiry on behalf of the consuming public.

Perhaps the federal trade commission can tell us.

THE HUNT FOR POTASH.

Cutting off of the world's chief source of potash supply in Germany by the European war has led to a persistent hunt elsewhere for this mineral so essential to substantial plant growth.

Most interesting among recent announcements in connection with this search is the reported discovery of extensive potash beds in Cuba, about 100 miles east of Havana. The report has it that in this particular locality, around Metembo, scrub palms, which usually attain a height of twenty to thirty feet, grew up 100 feet or more; and that analysis of the ashes from some of these palms revealed 16 per cent of potash.

Working from this discovery, it is said, there was found surface rock which yielded 12½ per cent of soluble potash, while borings brought forth rock that yielded 40 per cent, and at a depth of 600 feet it assayed 800 pounds to the ton.

If this discovery pans out according to promise, it will assuredly mean an end of the German potash monopoly following the war. From the standpoint of fertilization and food production, it will prove the most important to which the war has given rise.

In the meantime, we shall not cease to look for an available potash supply within the United States. While one or two concerns in Nebraska and other sections of the country have developed small sources of potash supply upon commercial basis at high prices, there has as yet been nothing accomplished which could hope to compete with German competition following the restoration of peace.

We have put strongest hope in Georgia's inexhaustible supplies of feldspar and similar minerals which have already been brought into practical use as a source of potash, and at present prices have supplied a profitable yield. But feldspar sources of potash are still far from being able to compete with the German product. Perhaps a simple chemical discovery will solve the problem, for the potash is abundant in this mineral, if it can only be brought to the soluble form. But the simple chemical discoveries are those which are most difficult to arrive at.

In the meantime, if the Cuban potash beds develop according to prospect we shall escape the German monopoly; while results already attained here at home almost give assurance that the Cuban product cannot be marketed upon a high-price trust basis.

Georgia feldspar and kindred minerals may yet prove the solution of the cheap potash problem. At least there will be no let-up in the effort to get it from them, until impossibility has been clearly established.

TOO MUCH GOLD?

The suggestion of an overproduction of gold as a factor in the present high prices of commodities and the increased cost of living is at least interesting.

Transvaal mines yielded the first six months of the current year 6,174,104 fine ounces, or an increase of 100,122 ounces, as compared with the same period of 1912, which was the record year. Reports indicate similar increase on the part of other African mines, and point to interesting possibilities as to future producton.

In the face of present world conditions, however, this increased production is hardly a sufficient basis for the demand for the demoretization of the metal, which is already being heard. The argument that such increase as this has been responsible for advancing prices might have some weight if the world were at peace and engaged in its orderly course of business.

Along with increased demand for commodities it must also be taken into account that there is extraordinarily increased demand for gold itself, particularly on the part of the European nations engaged in war. This demand, growing out of urgent necessity, would, if anything, increase the purchasing power of gold, despite any ordinary addition to its production.

But the demand for commodities, as compared with the supply, due in largest measure, no doubt, to the withdrawal of so many millions of men from the field of productive effort, has unquestionably been the telling factor in the matter of increased cost to the consumer. There may be instances in which war conditions have been used as an excuse for advancing prices, when there was no ground for doing so, based upon increased cost of production, but they are in the large minority.

Commenting upon the alleged "glut of gold," The New Orleans Times-Picayune says:

> With millions of men taken from the fields and factories, it would have been strange, indeed, if commodities of all sorts had not risen to an enormous extent. Nor does the expert economist forget that the demand for army supplies is constant and imperative, whereas individuals buy at leisure and count the cost of each purchase. And, in the case of wheat, everybody knows that the closure of the Dardanelles has revolutionized the statistics, thus causing crop shortages outside of Russia to fill the markets with fear of famine. In truth, it would be difficult to find an article which has not been lifted by such influences. Only with the return of peace can we hope to discover the real effect of the "gold glut."

The correctness of this conclusion can scarcely be questioned. A real "glut of gold" or an output excessively larger than normal, would undoubtedly be a calamity. But there has been nothing yet to indicate the likelihood of it. The increased African output will be easily absorbed by Europe, which, under present circumstances, could take up several times the quantity, with scarcely noticeable effect upon market conditions.

There will hardly be any large amount of worry right now over the question of "too much gold."

A HINT TO HUGHES.

The campaign of the candidate with the hammer, whose ill-aimed blows become wilder with each unavailing effort to "ring the anvil," will find another rebuke in the following plain statement of facts as affecting political campaigns. It is from The Malden (Mass.) News:

> As the political campaign warms up it is well for the big and little spellbinders to remember that the voters do not care for abuse of the opposition. They expect something else from a candidate besides soaking his opponent. The old idea that all of the good men were in one party and all the bad men in the other party is no longer in vogue. We can recall when a good old Congregational deacon would be mad enough to shoot his newsboy if he failed to leave him the republican Boston Journal, and instead left The Globe. That stamp of man would read no other newspaper save the one which tore democratic candidates to shreds. Today the voters look at matters from all angles. People read both sides and are more tolerant of one another's views. In every audience today there is a great independent vote made up of men who are carefully weighing the evidence.

Still, the political hammer will continue to strike out wildly and, in the democratic view, so far from hurting, the hammer helps!"

The worth of workin'
With a will!

He's here an' there, an' everywhere
To give the saints surprises;
When down he goes before his foes
Even as he falls he rises!

For he's the chap
That stirs about
An' dunno when
You've knocked him out!

President Saves Farmers and Fruit Growers Huge Sum By Preventing Great Strike

"One hundred million dollars direct loss and paralysis of the market is what the farmers and fruit growers of the United States would have suffered had not President Wilson averted the railroad strike," is the statement made by Frank G. Odell, agricultural economist and formerly agricultural statistician for the state of Nebraska. Mr. Odell said:

"The certified returns made by the 226 railroads of the United States to the interstate commerce commission show that for the month of April, 1916, their combined net earnings were $78,000,000 more than for April, 1915. The railroads' plea of poverty is being used by the republicans to scare the farmer into believing that he would have to pay the cost of increased freight rates if the eight-hour day should compel the roads to pay more in wages. The republicans are not calling attention to the fact that farmers would have lost more by one week of strike conditions than their alleged increase of expense would have cost the railroads in five years.

A Single Instance Is Cited.

"Take this single instance," continued Mr. Odell. The Seattle Times prints this report of the fruit crop of the famous Yakima valley in Washington:

"North Yakima, September 18.—It is now practically certain that the 1916 fruit crop of the Yakima valley will be 10,000 carloads, 2,000 carloads more than ever before. The total may even run over that figure. High prices have encouraged the growers to pick and ship all of their fruit, and, as it was exceptionally clean this year, very little has gone or will go to waste."

"A general railroad strike would have prevented the moving of this crop, with a resultant loss of at least 50 per cent, or a total loss of three million dollars to the Yakima fruit growers.

"This," Mr. Odell continued, "is indicative of a similar and perhaps larger loss in the famous fruit-growing districts of Wenatchee and the Okanogan, in Washington; Hood river, Rogue river and Medford, in Oregon; the Bitter Root valley, in Montana; the Lewiston-Clarkston district in southeastern Washington and Idaho; the big melon crop of Colorado and its equally important apple and peach crop, and the immense fruit crop of California.

How Strike Would Have Hit Fruit Crop.

"In 1915 the three principal fruit crops of Missouri, apples, peaches and pears, had a farm value of over $15,000,000; the same crops in Kansas were worth nearly $9,000,000; in Iowa, $6,800,000, and in Nebraska nearly $4,000,000. This does not take into account early small fruits, grapes or melons. A 25 per cent loss on these values would have been small in the case of a railroad strike.

"The certain losses which would have fallen on the growers in these districts alone would have totaled many millions. The disorganization of markets which would have followed a strike would have been felt disastrously in every item of this year's farm production.

"I wish," said Mr. Odell, "that the farmers of the country could realize that it is Woodrow Wilson who saved them from this incalculable loss, and that Charles E. Hughes, who, as governor of New York, vetoed practically all appropriations that were vitally needed for rural interests, is condemning President Wilson for preventing a nation-wide industrial panic and ruin of the farmer's market."

Men of National Fame Will Attend Meeting Of Stationers Here

Among the national celebrities who are coming to Atlanta for the twelfth annual convention of the National Association of Stationers and Manufacturers next week, will be E. Faber, of pencil fame, and Frank Waterman, the well-known fountain pen man.

Mr. Faber and Mr. Waterman always attend these conventions, coming in their private cars and bringing with them a party of friends. They will be among the lavish entertainers in the ranks of the convention's membership. Besides these, it is expected there will be present at least two well-known millionaire ink manufacturers, Mr. Carter and Mr. Stafford.

Many of the delegates will come in on Sunday's trains ready for the convention, which opens the first thing Monday morning, and reports so far received by President Ivan E. Allen, of the Atlanta Stationers' club, indicate that there will be an unusually large number of ladies in the party.

A special program of entertainment has been arranged for the ladies who will attend. This will be in charge of a committee of ladies, with the exception that a special committee has been appointed to secure automobiles for the use of the lady visitors during the convention. This committee is in charge of Charles M. Marshall as chairman. Mr. Marshall has already gone to work and feels assured that he will secure an ample supply of automobiles to take care of all of the ladies who come.

County Commissioners Appropriate $1,000 for The Associated Charities

The Fulton county board of commissioners at its meeting yesterday voted to appropriate $600 per month for the months of November and December to the Associated Charities. This action was taken following the presentation of a petition by the Associated Charities through its president, J. M. B. Hoxsey, and other leading citizens interested in the work, asking for an annual appropriation of $6,000. The appropriation for the year past had been $3,000.

The commissioners will be free to continue the appropriation at the rate of $500 per month, or $6,000 per year, when the matter again comes before it in December. Those who appeared with Mr. Hoxsey in behalf of the appropriation were Colonel W. L. Peel, Kendall Weisiger, Jack Lewis, L. S. Shivers, R. S. Foreman, V. H. Kriegshaber, L. C. Hopkins, L. D. Hicks, E. C. Kontz and others. Mr. Hoxsey submitted the following figures showing the work of the Associated Charities for the year:

The year ending August 31, the association spent $7,151.11, of which there was $5,610 chargeable to the county. The county appropriated and paid $3,408.90. Therefore, the deficit for the year (chargeable to the county), in actual expenditures, is $2,121.97.

In discussing the association's dire need of funds Mr. Hoxsey presented the following figures showing a decrease in available funds. In the campaign for funds for the Associated Charities in November, 1914, the committee had on hand in pledges and actual funds the sum of $20,463 for use through 1915.

Because of the death and removal of a number of annual subscribers to the fund October 1, 1916, it had dwindled to $13,363. According to that rate of depreciation, the association may expect approximately $1,800 for use in 1917. The association expects to raise $7,600 for 1917, and asks the county for $6,000.

As evidence of the splendid record of the Associated Charities they showed that 294 cases which were on hand in 1914 are now closed. Of these, at a conservative estimate, Mr. Hoxsey said, 200 cases had become self-supporting. In 1916, inclusive of October 1, 2,038 cases had been given aid and supervision.

An Effective Method.

PLANS ARE MADE FOR OBSERVANCE OF FIRE PREVENTION DAY IN CITY

At a joint meeting of the public safety and the fire prevention committees of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce yesterday preliminary plans were made for the general observance of Fire and Accident Prevention day, next Monday, in Atlanta.

Following the meeting both committees met with R. J. Guinn, president of the board of education, and L. M. Landrum, superintendent of schools, for the purpose of enlisting the co-operative participation of the school children and their parents and the school authorities, and in this were thoroughly successful.

The school superintendent and board president authorized representatives of the chamber of commerce to present the subject and explain it to the teachers of the city schools at their normal school meeting next Saturday. The teachers will in turn explain the day and its objects to the children Monday morning, and the children will be instructed to transmit it to their parents.

The children will be urged to call to the attention of their parents the necessity of properly safeguarding their homes by cleaning away all rubbish and trash that may have accumulated during the summer, seeing that chimney flues are cleaned and furnaces put in order and made absolutely safe.

On Monday, too, all of the school pupils will participate in fire drills, to be put on in the various school buildings, and will be given specific instruction in proper methods of avoiding and safeguarding against accidents.

In all of this work the fire and police departments, electric railway officials and local fire insurance men, together with members of the two committees of the chamber of commerce, will co-operate and assist.

The entire program will be explained to the teachers Saturday by Allen M. Schoen, of the Southeastern Underwriters' association; Ben Lee Crew, chairman of the public safety committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce; Fire Chief W. B. Cody, Assistant Secretary Henry H. Robinson of the chamber of commerce, S. C. Wilson and Fred W. Cole.

Fire and Accident Prevention day is nationally observed on October 9, and in many cities of the country the schools devote the entire day to it—in drills, programs and parades.

"One Day for Humanity" is the caption of an appeal the N., C. & St. L. railway has sent to each of its employees, from superintendents and department managers down to track-walkers, and adjuring the men and women in its employ to make, if possible, October 9 a day entirely free from any accident or fire.

So far as the road is concerned, Superintendent C. H. Anderson, of the safety department, says that he hopes to be able to report such a day.

Posters and other forms of appropriate literature distributed anent the observance of the day point out the fact that the nation's fire toll is 5,000 lives a year, a fire loss of $500 a minute, 10,000 persons workless and 20,000 homeless. The accident toll a year is 35,000 deaths and 2,000,000 injuries, to say nothing of the human suffering and financial loss.

By all of the railroads, persons who must use railroad property on that day are urged to be unusually careful, especially at crossings, where so many accidents occur.

Council to Meet Today To Consider Extension Of Highland Ave. Sewer

A special meeting of general council was called Wednesday by Mayor Woodward to consider the extension of the Highland avenue sewer under Ponce de Leon avenue. The meeting was called for 3 o'clock this afternoon, and will have for consideration this matter, with any others that might come before it.

Wednesday the county commission agreed to furnish most of the material and a sum of money—about $10,000—to complete the work asked for by the citizens of the fourth ward. The city has agreed to furnish material from the supply now on hand, but will not go further than this in the matter. This decision has been made by the mayor.

It is very probable that the work on the sewer extension will be begun within a very short time. County officials have declared that everything is in readiness for the beginning of the work.

Under the plan the sewer will be extended from under the grandstand in the Ponce de Leon ball park south to a point south of the avenue, a distance of about 227 feet. This will leave the sewer in its present condition, that of an open ditch, from this point to where it crosses Angier avenue. It is now complete up to Angier avenue. The distance from Angier avenue to the point to which the sewer is to be built is about five blocks.

The sewer will be constructed of concrete reinforced. It will be slightly oval in shape, and will be 9 feet in diameter. It will be constructed under the most modern specifications.

Ponce de Leon avenue will have to be torn up during the construction. It is because of this fact that people of the ward have been anxious to have the sewer completed across the street this fall. They are of the opinion that in the spring the officials of the ball park will object to cutting the street.

After the ordinance providing for the work is passed by council this afternoon it will be at once sent to the aldermanic board, which meets later in the day, and will probably get to the attention of the mayor in the next day or two.

The board of county commissioners Wednesday appropriated to the city of Atlanta the sum of $1,700 in addition to the appropriation already made for the Highland avenue sewer. It is thought that this appropriation will be sufficient to complete the work on the sewer.

Atlanta Man Is Given Contract for Paving Of Peachtree Street

At the meeting of the board of aldermen this afternoon the contract for the paving of Peachtree street from Fifteenth street to the city limits, awarded to T. D. Meador, Jr., of Atlanta, will be finally passed up and sent to Mayor Woodward for his approval.

This is the largest single contract which has been awarded in Atlanta for permanent street paving for many years. It is to be a 6-inch solid concrete foundation, surfaced with natural lake asphalt from the curbing out, and for roadway purposes, and with wood block in and adjacent to the street car tracks.

It is of particular note that this contract goes to an Atlanta man against bidders from all parts of the country; and that, too, after it had first been awarded to an out-of-town concern on slightly lower figures, but which had to abandon it because of inability to finance it. The city treasury is enriched by $1,000 as the result of the failure of the out-of-town concern to make good on its bid, its certified check for that amount having been forfeited to the city.

Awarding of this contract to Mr. Meador will result in the immediate establishment in Atlanta of an asphalt mixing plant to be put up here at a cost of $12,500. Thus, the asphalt used on Peachtree street will be mixed right here, and freshly laid when it is in just the proper condition.

Mr. Meador has done considerable paving work in Atlanta, and his pavements have given general satisfaction. It is considered an important thing for Atlanta, or any city, that it should have a contractor who is in a position to undertake and finance a big street contract of this sort. It is stated that work on the new pavement will be begun just as soon as the preliminary details can be arranged.

Mayor Woodward Invited To Attend the Highway Meeting in Birmingham

Mayor Woodward is in receipt of an invitation from J. A. Rountree, secretary of the Memphis-Atlanta-Birmingham highway, to be present at the meeting of those interested in the promotion of the project to be held in Birmingham October 6 and 7. The convention will be held at the Tutwiler hotel.

It is expected that a large number of delegates from towns along the proposed route of the highway will be present at the meeting.

Mayor Woodward was urged to attend the meeting and have ten delegates appointed from this city. He states that for various reasons he will be unable to get away at this time, but urges on the citizens that they take an interest in the convention and have some of their number present to represent Atlanta.

The object of the meeting is to promote the construction of a national highway between the four states of Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee. The formation of a strong organization, states the letter, will assure recognition by the government.

E. Y. Clarke Addresses The Georgia Political Science Association

At a meeting in the ballroom of the Ansley hotel yesterday, attended by about 100 women and men, the 1916-17 lecture course to be given under the auspices of the Georgia Economic and Political Science association was inaugurated with an address by Edward Young Clarke, secretary-manager of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, his subject being "Georgia: The State and the People."

The lecture was well received, and in it Mr. Clarke discussed his topic in its various phases, and dwelt extensively upon the future to which Georgia normally looks forward.

The final lecture of the course is scheduled for May 2, when the Right Rev. Benjamin Keiley will discuss the subject, "The Causes of the War Between the States."

Intervening lectures are calendared as follows:

October 18, 8:30 p. m., "Taxation"—Judge John C. Hart.

November 1, 8:30 p. m., "Protection and Free Trade"—Mrs. William H. Felton.

November 15, 8:30 p. m., "Shall We Have a Merchant Marine?"

November 29, 8:30 p. m., "Vocational Schools"—Professor M. L. Brittain.

December 13, 3:30 p. m., "Evils of the Increasing Tenant System in America"—Mr. Harvey Jordan.

December 27, 8:30 p. m., "Fighting the Boll Weevil"—Mr. R. Lee Worsham.

January 10, 1917, 8:30 p. m., "Conditions in Ireland"—Dean Thomas H. Johnston.

January 24, 8:30 p. m., "Commerce and Labor"—Mr. H. M. Stanley.

February 7, 8:30 p. m., "Public Baths: Their Relation to Industry"—Dr. A. H. Bunce.

February 21, 8:30 p. m., "Transportation"—Mr. Robert Alston.

March 7, 8:30 p. m., "Economic Losses in Our Modern Educational System"—Dr. Thornwell Jacobs.

March 21, 8:30 p. m., "History and Economics of Slavery"—Hon. Hooper Alexander.

April 4, 8:30 p. m., "Biographical Sketches of Alexander Hamilton and Thomas Jefferson"—Mr. Alex C. King.

501 Conventions Have Brought to This City Over 237,000 People

Since the organiaztion of the Atlanta Convention bureau on April 3, 1913, Atlanta has entertained 501 conventions and special events. These conventions and special events have brought approximately 237,233 delegates and visitors to Atlanta and has brought into the city an amount estimated to be $4,270,194.

For 1917 four large conventions have been booked for Atlanta, each of which will bring numbers of people to Atlanta. Among them are the International Circulation Managers, International Association of Rotary clubs, Sovereign Camp Woodmen of the World and the Southern Cattlemen's association.

Especial attention is called to the Southern Cattlemen's meeting, on account of resolutions passed at the recent convention, the committee attending guaranteed an increase in membership of 100; provided, the convention was brought to Atlanta for 1917. These memberships are $2 a year and any member of the convention bureau interested in cattle raising is urged to send in his application to the convention bureau in the Chamber of Commerce building.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Southern Division of Railroad Conductors will be held in Atlanta on the 5th and 6th of October.

The convention of the Association of Transportation and Car Accounting Officers has been set for December 12 and 13. During September five new members were added to the convention bureau in addition to eight renewal. The bureau now has a membership of 143, the largest in its history.

Ten Reasons Are Given.

A correspondent of The New York World gives the following ten reasons for not voting for the republican candidate for the presidency:

1. Because he has disclosed no evidence to back up his "charges." His case must be dismissed as merely a nasty piece of partisan malice.

2. Because he insults average American intelligence by presuming that we want an "appeal-to-the-rabble" type of campaign.

3. Because his "anything to beat Wilson" is not in accordance with the spirit of fair play or judicial impartiality which we had a right to expect.

4. Because he is not straightforwardly honest, being afraid to come out squarely on any issue.

5. Because he is an artful dodger on hyphenism, progressivism, labor, suffrage and foreign affairs.

6. Because his personality and methods are offensive, being those of the vote-grabbing partisan, narrow aristocrat, political huckster type.

7. Because he creates the impression of being a second-rater. How he ever "got away with" a supposed impartial judgeship is a monumental mystery.

8. Because he seems to be about thirty years behind the times, with no grasp on present-day affairs.

9. Because he seeks to get his "ideas" from his mirror; they are perfect boomerangs.

10. Because he is in awfully poor company.

To the man with an open mind, one who is willing to accept the facts, it would seem that either one of these reasons would be sufficient.

NEGRO CONFESSES HE KILLED MOORE

Detectives Say That Will Myers Has Admitted to Them That He Was Guilty of Firing the Fatal Shot.

At 7 o'clock Wednesday night Detectives Cochran, Doyal, McKibben and Allen, who have been working on the murder case in which J. H. Moore, the wealthy coal and wood dealer, of McDaniel street and Southern railway, was shot and killed at an early hour Tuesday evening while talking over the phone in his office to his wife, succeeded in obtaining a confession from the negro, Will Myers, whom the police have had in custody since shortly after the murder.

Myers said that he was going down McDaniel street a little before the murder and was accosted by the other negro in the case, Frank Hugle, who was driving one of Mr. Moore's delivery wagons.

"Hey, Myers, where you goin'?" said Hugle, according to Myers; "you got a gun? I know where we can make a big haul. Mr. Moore has about $300 on him."

Myers said that they planned the robbery, and went to the office of the coal dealer.

"I said 'hey there!' when we got to the office," said Myers, "and then I shot Mr. Moore. When he began to kick so bad, I got scared and ran off. I shot twice more from the tracks by the office."

TWELFTH STREET WILL BE GRADED BY COUNTY BOARD

On motion of Commissioner S. B. Turman, the board of county commissioners yesterday accepted the report of the public works committee to enter upon the board's program for 1917 the grading and opening up of Twelfth street between Spring and Williams. The report was adopted and made the order of the board.

Knox Thomas, as engineer for the county, was directed to act with an engineer to be appointed by W. H. White and others, representing the property owners of the north side of Fulton avenue, and an engineer to be appointed by Messrs. Pharr, Ottley and others, representing the property owners on the south side of said avenue, to determine the width of that street. The report of the engineers so appointed, when filed, is to be final.

The public works committee was authorized to procure bids on a map or atlas of Fulton county for the use of the county board of tax assessors.

On motion of Commissioner W. L. Gilbert, the committee on alms and juveniles was authorized to purchase, at a price not to exceed $60 per acre, a tract of land containing 330 acres on the Baker's Ferry road near the Industrial Farm for Negroes.

The finance committee was authorized to make such a loan as might be needed to cover the casual deficiencies of the board until the taxes for the current year should have been collected.

J. H. CARMICAL NAMED EDITOR OF PANDORA

Athens, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—In a hotly-contested election in which there were several candidates and a good deal of clean but sharp political activity the staff of the "Pandora," the University of Georgia annual, for its thirtieth edition, was named late yesterday, the election being regularly held in the chapel. The result was the choice of J. H. Carmical, of College Park, editor-in-chief, and W. C. White, of Savannah, and Otey McClellan, of Memphis, Tenn., as associate editors. The business managers will be selected later.

NO OVERCHARGES MADE, SAYS "BOOTS" ROGERS

W. W. "Boots" Rogers, manager of the Jitney Bus Taxicab company, in reply to a story in Tuesday's Constitution, concerning the unfair increase of taxicab rates by certain taxi companies because of the street car strike, Wednesday issued a statement that not a single overcharge had been made during the strike by his company.

HAS NOT MADE DECISION ON BECK'S COMMISSION

Governor Harris had not yesterday decided what course he would pursue in regard to commissioning Captain C. M. Beck as lieutenant colonel of the fifth Georgia regiment. The governor is considering taking up the matter of the protested commission with Judge Advocate General Ferris Cann, of Savannah.

POLICE COMMISSION MEETS THIS MORNING

A special meeting of the police commissioners has been called for 10 o'clock today, by Chairman Andy King. Business of unusual importance, relating to recent strike occurrences, will in all probability command the attention of the commissioners.

MILTON H. SMITH ORDERED TO TELL

About L. & N. Contributions for Political Purposes. Federal Court Decides Against Railway Magnate.

Washington, October 4.—Milton H. Smith, president, and other officials of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, must answer questions propounded by the interstate commerce commission regarding contributions by the road to political campaign funds, Justice Stafford, of the District of Columbia, supreme court, decided today.

The court held the commission has the right to know about such contributions, not because of their political nature, but because they affect questions of the reasonableness of rates, and important questions of railroad accounting.

Summary of Decision.

The decision says, in part:

"The conclusion of the court is that when a case is presented from which it clearly appears that the information sought may well be needed by the commission to enable it to enforce the existing provisions of the act in respect to the duties which the act has imposed upon carriers in the transaction of interstate commerce and not merely to inform the mind of the commission to enable it to recommend future legislation a question does arise under the provisions of the act entitling the commission to institute an inquiry and examine witnesses and consequently upon the refusal of the witness to answer, to invoke the aid of the court.

"It is difficult to avoid the conclusion that if the amendment of 1910 is to be given any force whatever it must be considered as having empowered the commission to proceed by way of investigation and the examination of witnesses with respect to such matters, not because they would involve political activities of the carrier, but because they involve the expenditure of its funds and so affect the question of the reasonableness of rates and also involve the method of accounting under which by means of a false system, it would be possible to keep the commission in ignorance of important elements in the problem with which it has to deal."

Smith Refused to Answer.

Mr. Smith refused several months ago to answer questions of Joseph W. Folk, counsel for the commission, in an inquiry into affairs of the Louisville and Nashville, and Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, based upon a senate resolution introduced by Senator Luke Lea. A series of such questions dealing with alleged political contributions was submitted, approved by Chairman Meyer, of the commission, and unanswered by Mr. Smith on the advice of counsel.

Recourse to the courts was had by the commission to compel testimony and both the commission and the Louisville and Nashville presented briefs and argued the merits orally.

For the commission it was contended that it was a matter vital to proper enforcement of the law to regulate commerce that it have authority to obtain full information regarding a carrier's expenditure. The railroad denied the existence of such broad authority, said the commission obviously was not concerned in a carrier's political activity and asserted that the investigation was inspired by political reasons.

May Appeal Case.

Louisville, Ky., October 4.—No statement was forthcoming at the general office of the Louisville and Nashville railroad here today regarding the decision of the supreme court of the District of Columbia requiring President Smith and other officials of the road to answer questions propounded by the interstate commerce commission relating to the road's political contributions. The impression was gained, however, that the question would be taken to the United States supreme court.

SANITARY INSPECTOR CUT WHILE TRYING TO ARREST NEGROES

While attempting to make an arrest of two negroes who were engaging in a fight at the corner of Peters and Fair streets last night about 7 o'clock, Quill P. Strickland, 46, of 16 Inman street, a sanitary inspector for the city, was badly cut by one of them. The two negroes left the scene immediately.

Mr. Strickland was taken to the Grady hospital. He received cuts as follows: One rather deep in the back, two above the right eye, one on the top of his head, and one across his right wrist. The wounds are bad, but not serious.

SHORT CROP OF COTTON IN SOUTHWEST GEORGIA

Fort Gaines, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—As an evidence of the shortage of the cotton crop in this section of this state and Alabama caused by the excessive rains and the boll weevil, Fort Gaines has received up to date only 2,070 bales of cotton and it is the opinion of the best informed men on this line here that our total receipts will not exceed 2,500 bales as against an average yearly receipt of 8,000 to 10,000 bales. Corn and feed stuff crops are fine and much attention is being turned to hogs and cattle.

AMUSEMENTS

"The Only Girl."

(At the Atlanta.)

If you want to see some batchelors, and one lone, stubborn, self-sufficient one in particular, driven out of the trenches by four pretty girls, don't fail to see "The Only Girl" when it comes to the Atlanta tonight, Thursday and Saturday, with a Saturday matinee.

Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom have done some clever work for the American stage, but this is recognized as their best musical comedy. And Joe Weber is giving a production in every way worthy of the work of these brainy men. There is an augmented orchestra to do the lilting music of Victor Herbert, and we are told that the cast coming here is the same one that appeared before President Wilson in Washington recently.

"While the City Sleeps."

(At the Grand.)

We hear much of "Raffles," that high colored character of thieves' fiction; Jack Sheppard and Claude Duval live in the classic stories of the early time, but where is the chronicle of the everyday, faithful, earnest policeman who walks his beat in rain, snow and sleet, taking his life in his hand not once a day but during almost every hour? And for what? Merely a living wage that does not represent the risk he faces hourly. So the author in writing "While the City Sleeps" has utilized this theme to build the plot of his play and as it is entirely a new idea, it furnishes a delightful evening's entertainment. Matinees for the balance of the week will be on Thursday and Saturday, with the Saturday matinee beginning at 3 p. m., on account of the world series baseball detail.

Nancy Boyer.

(Next Week at the Grand.)

Miss Nancy Boyer, well and favorably known to the playgoers of America, has been secured by George M. Rosener to create the role of "California," a mining camp waif, in his comedy-drama, "The Little Lady from Lonesome Town," a story of the woman who paid. This winsome young actress has been called by our leading artists and illustrators the ideal type of American womanhood. When it was decided to place this drama on the International Circuit, Rosener began his search for the actress to play the heroine—she must be young, beautiful, emotional and with the rare art of a comedienne. Several names were suggested and the final choice was Nancy Boyer—who at the moment was scoring a success in Billie Burke's role in "Jerry."

This delightful actress and her sterling company will be the eventful offering at the Grand next week.

Homer Lind.

(At the Forsyth.)

The celebrated singer, Homer Lind, lately of the "Parsifal" opera production of Henry W. Savage and of the Metropolitan Opera house, is one of the splendid features of the Keith vaudeville bill at the Forsyth this week. Mr. Lind, assisted by Adah Currie Lind, presents the musical dramatic playlet, "The Singing Teacher," in which there is an abundance of both melody and fund.

Other star features include George M. Rosener, in unusual impersonations; Valerie Bergere and company in the delightful and beautifully staged Japanese comedy, "Little Cherry Blossom;" Marie Stoddard, in her "cartoon songs;" Harry Antrim and Betsy Vale in songs, dances and comedy; Fred and Lydia Weaver, in a daring aerial turn, and the Monkey Hippodrome, Robert Everest's Novelty Circus, in which only monkeys take part.

Change of Bill.

(At the Piedmont.)

Today ushers in the mid-week change of program at the Piedmont theater, the topliner being "The Original Potts;" two brothers who present a novel sketch, assisted by three other members of this very clever company. Another offering that will appeal to all Piedmont patrons is Chief Little Elk. He is a genuine Indian chief and has proven himself a fine entertainer. With him are two others who help in making the act a very interesting one. DeArno and Margaret, society jugglers; Eleanor Gardner and Milton and Herbert add strength to a vaudeville that will make the balance of the week talked about in the most complimentary manner by those who visit the Piedmont.

"The Light at Dusk."

(At the Strand.)

A great picture is at the Strand theater today. It is "The Light at Dusk," the Greater Vitagraph feature in which one of the principal characters is a man who bears such a striking resemblance to Jesus Christ that his very appearance changes the soul of the hero from grinding the poor into a splendid philanthropist. Scenes of "The Light at Dusk," which stars Orrin Johnson, were taken in Russia and in the great steel mills at Pittsburg. The picture is not only a great allegorical lesson, but is chockfull of action from first to last.

Norma Talmadge.

(At the Georgian.)

Once again Norman Talmadge is seen in a part fully worthy of her talents in the Triangle-Fine Arts feature, "The Children in the House," which is at the Georgian theater today, together with another of the "Who's Guilty?" series, which are run every Thursday. Miss Talmadge made her first appearance for Triangle in "The Missing Link," and since that time has added to the esteem in which she is held by devotees of motion pictures by very excellent portrayals of various characters. Prominent in her support in "The Children in the House" are William Hinckley and Jewell Carmen. Friday's attraction at the Georgian will be Mae Murray in "The Dream Girl."

Blanche Sweet.

(At Alamo No. 2.)

As a harum-scarum child of nature, light-hearted and care-free, Blanche Sweet will be seen today and Friday in the thrilling Lasky production of "The Storms," a Paramount picture at the Alamo No. 2. The scenes of this unusual drama were laid in the Maine woods and Miss Sweet is seen as a daughter of an absent-minded, retired old professor. How she falls in love—a cloud is cast over her life only to be dispelled by the man her heart desires, unfolded and explained in an intense and interesting manner.

"The Jungle Child."

(At the Criterion.)

"The Jungle Child," the latest Triangle-Ince offering, at the Criterion today and tomorrow, tells an unusual story. It features Dorothy Dalton and Howard Hickman, both well-known Triangle players, and in "The Jungle Child" their work is far above par. The story is of a white girl raised amongst a tribe of South American Indians. An unscrupulous explorer, played by Howard Hickman, comes into the camp of the tribe and the girl learns to love him. When he learns that she is in reality the heiress to a vast fortune, he schemes to obtain this fortune for himself, and induces the girl to marry him and takes her to New York, where her first contact with "culture" opens her eyes as to her husband's real worth.

TODAY AT THE MOVIES

CRITERION—Dorothy Dalton and Howard Hickman, in "The Jungle Child;" also a Keystone comedy.

ALAMO NO. 2—Blanche Sweet, in "The Storm."

STRAND—Orrin Johnson, in "The Light at Dusk."

VICTORIA—Mabel Taliaferro in "God's Half Acre."

SAVOY—"The Lie Sublime;" "The Sheriff's Trap;" "Model No. 46."

GEORGIAN—Norman Talmadge, in "The Children in the House;" "Who's Guilty?"

ALPHA—Marguerite Clayton, in "When Justice Won;" "That Pesky Parrot," comedy.

VAUDETTE—Mabel Taliaferro, in "The Dawn of Love."

PIEDMONT—Carter DeHaven in "The Wrong Door."

"THE LIGHT AT DUSK" AT THE STRAND TODAY

Through an error published in one of the evening papers of Wednesday the announcement was made that the attraction for today at the Vaudette theater would be Orrin Johnson in "The Light at Dusk." The advertisement should have read that this photoplay production is to be shown at the Strand theater. "The Man Who Looks Like Christ" plays the leading role in "The Light at Dusk." So wonderful is his likeness to the Savior that those who have seen this great romance of Russia and America, declare he is the original Christ of Oberramagau's Passion play. There is a storm scene in "The Light at Dusk" that is one of the most realistic scenes ever flashed on a movie screen. The entire production is staged in lavish fashion, and creates a profound effect, for though it is a story full of action, yet it teaches a great lesson as well.

NEGRO WOMAN LYNCHED; HER SON SLEW FARMER

Negress Taken From Leary Guardhouse and Riddled With Bullets.

Arlington, Ga., October 4.—(Special.) Mary Conley, the negro woman whose son, Sam Conley, killed E. M. Melvin, a prominent white planter, near here Monday, was taken from the guardhouse in Leary some time during the night and lynched. Her body, riddled with bullets, was found by the roadside by parties coming into Arlington during the early morning hours.

When Melvin reprimanded Sam Conley for the way the latter was neglecting his work the negro's mother showed resentment. It is claimed that Melvin then grappled with her, whereupon Sam Conley picked up an iron scale weight and struck the white man on the head. Melvin died a short time later.

Conley escaped, but his mother was captured and put in jail here.

The lynching was very quiet. The mob had no difficulty in breaking into the guardhouse, which was unguarded, the officers not anticipating trouble.

Conley Captured.

Albany, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—Sam Conley was captured at Pretoria, in the western part of Dougherty county, last night by Joseph Tolbert, who turned the negro over to Sheriff Tarver. Conley entered Tolbert's store to buy food.

Macon, Ga., October 4.—Sam Conley, the negro boy accused of the murder of E. M. Melvin in Calhoun county, was brought to this city today and placed in the Bibb county jail for safe-keeping. A deputy sheriff from Dougherty county who delivered the boy had not heard of the lynching of Conley's mother.

Conley had been taken by automobile from Albany to Americus, where the deputy took him aboard a train, delivering him to a sheriff here. A posse is still huunting for Conley, not knowing that the officers have him, it is stated.

HAMPTON TERRACE HOTEL BOUGHT BY AUGUSTA SYNDICATE

Augusta, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—The biggest real estate deal ever made in this section of the country was consummated when James U. Jackson, of Augusta, the head of a large syndicate, purchased the Hampton-Terrace hotel and 5,000 acres of land from the Augusta-Aiken Railway and Electric corporation.

The amount involved is in the neighborhood of $2,000,000, taking the deal in all its phases, for it means the bringing of the Seaboard Air Line railway into Augusta by the construction of the Augusta and North railroad between here and North, S. C., a station on the Seaboard. W. H. Barse, of New York, will be the proprietor of the Hampton-Terrace instead of C. A. Wood, formerly of Atlanta and New York. One hundred rooms will be added to the hotel, it is said.

RISE OF 15 POINTS IN COTTON MARKET DURING WEDNESDAY

With a new rise of 15 points Atlanta spot cotton reached a new high mark Wednesday. The market closed with the fleecy staple quoted at 16.75, and it is freely predicted that the gold mine of the farmer will continue to increase in value.

And, at that new price, there was comparatively little of the staple to be had. Those who have a few bales "salted away" are holding for even higher prices, believing that by the end of the week the quotation for the product will be at least 17 cents.

Future markets continued with large gains Wednesday. In both New Orleans and New York the prices climbed, and in Liverpool the story was the same.

With the advance Wednesday, the spot market here has netted a gain of ¾ of a cent over the close of Saturday.

GREAT INTEREST SHOWN IN WEEVIL MEETINGS

Greenville, Ga., October 4.—(Special.) Great interest was shown here today by the farmers and business men of the community in the boll weevil meeting held in the courthouse and addressed by State Entomologist Lee Worsham. The speaker had an audience which completely filled the courtroom. The weevil problem has become a vital one for Meriwether county, as the pest is now being found in numbers in the cotton fields of this section. Thursday Mr. Worsham will speak at Hamilton and Talbotton.

Americus, Ga., October 4.—(Special.) A boll weevil meeting under the auspices of the state board of entomology will be held in Americus on Wednesday, October 11, according to the announcement of State Entomologist E. Lee Worsham. The campaign in this section is on in earnest, and much interest is being aroused.

Odd Fellows Meet.

Vidalia, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—The ninth division of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows met today with Lodge No. 530, at Covena, P. G. Wheeler presiding. Nearly all the lodges in the division were represented and the state of the order was reported to be excellent. The next meeting will be held with the Rentz lodge, No. 352, at Rentz.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

If feverish, bilious, constipated, give fruit laxative at once.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeits sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

GEORGIA MAYORS MEET IN ATLANTA NEXT WEDNESDAY

That the proposal made by the Fulton County Wilson club that a similar club be organized in every county in the state would soon be realized was given considerable impetus yesterday by the declaration of John D. Walker, chairman for Georgia of the democratic finance committee, that he had invited the mayor of each county seat to be present at a meeting to be held here in the chamber of commerce assembly hall next Wednesday to represent his county.

The meeting will be addressed by both the Georgia senators, a number of congressmen and other democrats of distinction. The proposition is to have a contribution of $1 from each democrat wherever located constitute eligibility to membership of the Wilson club in his county. The money is to be turned over to the national democratic committee to be used in doubtful states.

While the mayors have been specially invited to attend this meeting, each county may send as many delegates as it sees fit.

ADDRESSES TECH CLASS.

Hicks, of Southern Ruralist, on School Program.

L. D. Hicks, of The Southern Ruralist, addressed the class in advertising and selling at the Tech School of Commerce last night, on the general subject of advertising campaigns and their preparation. Mr. Hicks went into detail to the extent of mapping out a city, state and nation-wide campaign as applied to a special commodity. The class will take up this commodity, and each student will be required to prepare copy to cover an extensive series of advertising of all classes.

Prizes have been offered for various departments of the work, and great interest has been aroused in the work.

Owing partly to the enthusiasm of the students in the work of the term, and partly to a special prize for the best attendance during the term, offered by A. C. Keiser, of the Georgia News company, there has been a normal attendance at the evening classes of the school, in spite of the strike. In a number of instances men have been compelled to walk for considerable distances, but this handicap has not been sufficient to reduce the nightly average.

NEW HIGH RECORD MADE BY ATLANTA CLEARINGS

According to local clearing house reports, Atlanta clearings Wednesday amounted to $5,155,202.85, a new high record in Atlanta. Clearings for the first three days of the week amounted to $14,734,452.76, while for the same time last year the reports showed $9,684,202.43. This week will probably be the largest in clearings of the year, thus far.

Georgia's Gunners Cross Mississippi And Speed on Way

By J. Walter LeCraw.

Deltapoint, La., October 4.—(Special.) Just as the sun was setting in the west the first section of the Georgia artillery troop trains crossed the Mississippi river this evening on the railroad ferry between Vicksburg, Miss., and Deltapoint, La. The other sections followed at half hour intervals. By 8:30 o'clock the Georgia troops were speeding on toward the border on Louisiana soil.

The trip has been without mishap except for one of the members of battery C being left behind at Meridian. He was picked up by battery B on the second section and joined his own battery at Vicksburg.

The entire battalion paraded through the streets of Vicksburg during a half hour stop at that place just before crossing the Mississippi. The experience of crossing a river the size of the Mississippi on a ferry was a unique one for the Georgia boys. While the train was being run on the ferry boat the soldiers crowded the doors and windows of cars and cheered lustily as the ferry pushed off from shore bearing the train and its human burden. Two trips of the ferry were required for each of the three trains.

WOMAN IS BOUND OVER FOR HAVING CORN LIQUOR

Viola Gamble, aged 19, of 24 Temple street, was arraigned before Judge Johnson, Wednesday, to tell the court why sixty-one gallons of corn whisky is essential toward peace and happiness.

She told Detectives Cowan and Shaw last week that the whisky belonged to her, but Wednesday she changed her story and said that it belonged to two men whose names she wouldn't divulge. She was placed under $100 bond.

Clint Smith, aged 19, who is charged with having hauled the whisky, stated that he was employed to haul it by a man whose name he didn't know. He was also placed under bond.

Solitaire Diamond Engagement Rings

Why You Should Give One

A solitaire diamond ring is really an investment that will yield double dividends.

Every girl wants to be the proud possessor of such a ring.

She may even tell you—for economical reasons—that she doesn't want it. But just think of any young married woman, mother or grandmother of your acquaintance who does own one. Don't you know she delights in the ownership of such a gem; that it is a daily reminder of the happiest period of her life, and that she prizes it above all of her other treasures?

The pleasure and happiness conferred by such a gift is worth a sacrifice.

We send diamonds on approval anywhere for inspection.

You can buy a diamond on such convenient monthly payments the outlay will not be felt.

McGraw's Accusations Sole Topic in Baseball; Is Panned on All Sides

New York, October 4.—The national commission will take no action on the statement made by Manager John McGraw, of the New York Giants, that his team played listless ball yesterday when Brooklyn defeated the Giants and captured the National league championship. President John K. Tener, of the National league, said today that the commission would not take any cognizance of McGraw's remarks.

"McGraw was undoubtedly wrought up over the fact that his team could not keep on winning," said President Tener. "The Giants were suffering from the reaction of their long winning streak. I don't doubt that McGraw said harsh things, but every friend of baseball will realize the fiery temper of the man who said them."

McGraw could not be found today to explain his remarks shortly after he left the Giants' bench in anger during the fifth inning.

In commenting on McGraw's remarks, President Ban Johnson, of the American league, characterized them as "outrageous," and said that if this situation had arisen in the American league he would have dealt with it in anything but a lenient manner. When asked if the national commission would take up the matter Johnson said that it was up to the National league to handle it.

"If they are not big enough to handle it they should go out of business," he said.

Garry Herrmannn, a member of the commission, was reticent regarding the affair. "This is the first I had heard of the incident," he said. "I thought it was a joke. Now I believe it was a fool act."

Robinson Pans McGraw.

Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn club, said: "It is ridiculous even to suggest that the New Yorks were not trying to beat us yesterday. It looked to me as if they were trying pretty hard when they scored three runs against us in the first inning. At that time I felt like quitting the bench myself. McGraw's assertions are very unsportsmanlike. He knows very well the Brooklyns are superior to the New Yorks and have defeated them in a majority of the games this season, and when they came here Monday they encountered the best team in the league. It was only natural the best should win. The New Yorks did play bad baseball yesterday, but they were just out of a long winning streak that Boston crushed Saturday and they had not the stamina to win. They were simply outclassed and did not have to play listlessly so that we could win."

W. D. Perritt, the New York pitcher whose action in winding up" while a man was on first incensed McGraw, said "if there is any implication that I helped to lose the game you can give it the lie for me. That game cost me $100. I had bet that I would win twenty games. I was out to win."

DISTRIBUTING TICKETS FOR SATURDAY'S GAME.

Boston, October 4.—Distribution of reserved seat tickets for the world series games in this city between the Brooklyn Nationals and the Boston Americans, which will open on Saturday, began today. Each of the 27,000 seats available for reservation was covered by applications, officials of the local club said.

Almost immediately on the receipt by mail this morning of the notices of allotments, successful applicants appeared at the club box offices at Fenway park. Ticket distribution prior to the date of the opening game will be made from there, although the games will be played at Braves field, the grounds of the National league club.

To prevent the congestion which interfered with traffic in the vicinity of Braves field last year, new arrangements by the police and club officials were made today. Sale of admission seats at $1 and at 50 cents will be made from offices on the side of the grounds opposite the grandstand entrances, thus obviating the crush which kept many holders of reserved seats from the games last year. These new gates will be opened at 9 o'clock on the morning of the games, purchasers must move into the grounds at once, and the gates will be closed as soon as the 15,000 rush seats are filled.

To make these arrangements at such an early date and to make possible the playing of the opening games here while the Brooklyn park is being placed in readiness for its first world series, the Boston club has had men at work day and night for more than a week. Secretary Edwin Riley collapsed under the strain.

Assurance that the Red Sox will be cheered on the foreign field by organized local supporters as the local world series contenders have been for years, was given today by John M. Killeen, leader of the royal rooters. He reported that President Ebbets, of the Brooklyn club, had promised an adequate supply of tickets for the Boston party, which will follow the fortunes of the team throughout the series. First indications of the betting odds on the series were available today with Brooklyn definitely placed as the National league pennant winner. Wagers were offered here at odds of 10 to 7 on Boston. As yet it was said no Brooklyn money had appeared.

RED SOX HAVE WORKOUT; BARRY WILL NOT PLAY.

Manager Carrigan, of the Boston American league baseball team, put his men through a light workout this afternoon on the Braves field, the home of the Boston National club, where the world's series games in this city are to be played. The squad was divided into two teams and ten innings were played. No attempt was made to keep score. All the regular pitchers were sent in to work for an inning or two, and batters were given plenty of opportunity to hit the ball in order to accustom the fielders to judging fly balls in the sun-lit spaces and the shadows of the park.

Captain Barry was second baseman of one of the teams, but his injured hand is still weak, and it is not believed that he will figure in the world's series. Janvrin, who has been at second in Barry's absence, is expected to play the position.

Tomorrow a team of Red Sox players will go to Worcester, where they will play a benefit game with the Philadelphia American league team. The proceeds will be turned over to the memorial fund for John H. Gaffney, a former National league umpire. Captain Barry will have charge of this team, which will be composed largely of substitutes. Manager Carrigan will give the regular team another light work-out tomorrow afternoon.

From the number of applications already received, the world's series promises, it is said, to break all existing records as far as newspaper attendance is concerned. The Braves' field press box, which is the largest in the country, probably will seat the greatest assembly of baseball writers that has ever witnessed a game.

HEMPSTEAD TRIES TO SMOOTH OVER MISTAKE.

New York, October 4.—President H. N. Hempstead, of the New York National League club, after commenting on the record of the twenty-six consecutive victories recently established by his team, said in a statement issued today:

"After any tremendous effort put forth in any line of endeavor there is for a certainty a let-down among men. It followed our first winning streak of seventeen straight games and the same thing undoubtedly occurred after our last.

"Due to the unusual standing of the clubs at the beginning of the Brooklyn series," Hempstead continued, "the crux of the whole year's play seemed to center upon the Giants winning or losing to the Brooklyns. If we beat Brooklyn four straight Philadelphia might win the pennant, if we lost Brooklyn would win the pennant, and it was much talked about that the Giants must win the games because if they did not the public would feel that the team wanted Brooklyn to win. Many of my personal friends spoke to me of this last week and said we must win all four games.

"It was no wonder, therefore, that with this burden to carry Mr. McGraw yesterday, during the game, was much upset by the loose playing of the team, because apparently the burden was all on his shoulders due to his former intimate relations with Manager Robinson. If, however, I was asked to nominate any one club that Mr. McGraw would rather have beaten, I certainly would have picked Brooklyn. When he asked to be relieved from the management during the balance of the game I felt that he was right and perhaps the team might pull itself together and win.

"There is no doubt that the game was indifferently played, but the six runs that the Giants made showed great effort on the part of the players to win."

HOLES OUT IN "ONE" WINNING MATCH

Chicago, October 4.—What is claimed here today to be the first time in golf history when a player won a match by making the final hole in one is recorded in the contest for the W. J. Jackson trophy, at Beverly Country club, yesterday.

Playing in the final Harry R. Shollenberger and William F. Neilson came to the eighteenth tee all square. The hole is 165 yards, and Shollenberger's mashie shot rolled up to the hole and rested against the pin. When the pin was lifted the ball fell in. Neilson holed his putt for a two.

Norwoods Win.

Cincinnati, October 4.—The Norwoods of this city defeated the Rail Lights of Toledo, 4 to 0, in the second game of the finals for the class AA championship of the National Baseball federation, an amateur organization, here today. The Rail Lights won the first game at Toledo last Saturday.

Rettig to Giants.

Paterson, N. J., October 4.—Otto Rettig, pitcher for a local semi-professional team, which shut out the New Yorks, 2 to 0, here on Sunday, allowing them only three hits, will report to John McGraw Thursday morning, when it is understood he will be taken into the National league.

WORLD'S SERIES IN DETAIL AT GRAND

Dick Jemison Calls the First Game Saturday—Grand Matinee at 3.

The first game of the world's series between the Boston Red Sox and the Brooklyn Trolley Dodgers, slated for Saturday, October 7th, will be called in detail by Dick Jemison at the Grand theater, starting at 1 o'clock Atlanta time. The doors open at 12:30 o'clock.

The regular Saturday matinee of the Grand theater, originally scheduled to start at 2:30 o'clock will start immediately after the close of the detail of the opening game of the baseball classic—approximately at 3 o'clock.

Admission prices to the detail will be 50 cents for men, 25 cents for ladies and 15 cents for the gallery. Rain checks are issued with each ticket purchased. Tickets are on sale at the Grand box office daily.

The famous Star Ball Player board, which shows every move of the ball even to curves being thrown by the pitcher and the base runners speeding on the paths, will aid in detailing the games.

A special leased wire from the ball park in Boston, direct on to the Grand theater stage, will bring the plays within four seconds of the time they actually happen in Boston. The detail will be absolutely the next best performance to seeing the games themselves.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Giants 7, Dodgers 3.

Brooklyn, October 4.—With several of Manager Carrigan's lieutenants here to look over the National league champions today, Manager Robinson used many of the second-string men and recruits with the result that New York easily deefated Brooklyn 7 to 3. Cheney pitched three erratic innings and was relieved by Cadore, late of the International league, who was pounded hard. Sallee pitched the nine innings for New York and was effective. Robertson and McCarthy led in the hitting with three drives each. M. Wheat had his finger split and was forced to retire. McGraw did not appear at the grounds.

Score by innings:									R.	H.	E.
New York	111	100	102						7	14	2
Brooklyn	002	010	000						3	7	2

Batteries—Sallee and McCarty; Cheney, Cadore and M. Wheat, O. Miller, Dede.

Phillies 7, Braves 5.

Philadelphia, October 4.—Philadelphia clinched second place in the National league race by defeating Boston today, 7 to 5. The home team won by hitting the deliveries of Allen and Barnes hard in the sixth inning. When Boston threatened to score in the ninth Alexander went to the rescue.

An X-ray examination made today of the injury sustained by Whitted in the first game yesterday showed that a bone in his left foot was broken.

Score by innings:									R.	H.	E.
Boston	000	140	000						5	9	1
Philadelphia	200	013	01x						7	11	0

Batteries—Allen, Barnes and Blackburn; Demaree, Kantlehner, Oeschger, Alexander and Burns, Adams.

GRAND CIRCUIT

Lexington, Ky., October 4.—One world's record and two season records were broken at the third day of the Kentucky Horse Breeders' association meeting here today. The world's record went by the board when Lee Axworthy, 2:00, in an effort to break the track record of 2:02 for trotting stallions made by Peter Volo last year, lowered his world's record to 1:59 1-2.

Lucile Spier, the world's champion mare on a half-mile track, went to beat 2:05 and trotted the mile in 2:03 1-3, which is the season's mark for trotting mares, and Roan Hal, in winning the Board of Commerce stake for 2:00 pacers, went the second mile in 2:00 3-4, which is also the season's mark for pacing geldings.

All the races today were decided by straight heats.

In the Board of Commerce stake Single G., the favorite, was off to a bad start in the opening heat and finished second, Roan Hal winning the heat handily. Roan Hal also won the second and deciding heat easily, Single G., finishing second.

Harry J. S. was never in danger in winning the 2:11 trot. Baron Robin Hood, a three-year-old, took second money.

Little Frank D. took the 2:12 pace without serious competition, Hal Leaf getting second money and Crystal Night third.

Zomrect won the Limestone stake after two hard heats. Two of the get of Bingara's Brescia and Brisac, finished second and fourth, respectively.

Uhlan, 1:58, champion trotter of the world, was shown under saddle.

ALEXA STIRLING AGAIN WINNER

Defeats Mrs. G. H. Stetson. Plays Miss Rosenthal Today—No Upsets in Other Matches Played.

By Harry C. Smith.

Boston, Mass., October 4.—(Special.) Miss Alexa Stirling, southern champion, will tomorrow meet Miss Elain Rosenthal, former western title-holder, in the third round of women's national golf championship at Belmont Springs club.

Excepting Miss Mildred Caverly, Philadelphia champion, they are the youngest candidates remaining and it is generally believed the winner in that match will carry off first honor Saturday.

Miss Stirling won handily today from Mrs. Henry Stetson, Philadelphia, in a rather uninteresting round in which neither scored well.

Play by Holes.

Being short in her second and then in approaching cost Mrs. Stetson the first hole 5 to par 4.

The second was halved in a stroke above perfect play. Mrs. Stetson abandoned third hole after getting a wretched lie in tangled grass, and was approximated at 8, while Miss Stirling was down in 5 to par 4.

Miss Stirling overplayed the fourth green as she did the second, but halved the hole in an indifferent six. Miss Stirling won the fifth hole, par 3 in 4 to 5. She did it by playing short of green while Mrs. Stetson went over. Miss Stirling 3 up. Miss Stirling lost the ninth in 6 to par 5. The putt herer was best to the green only to lose her advantage. Miss Stirling 2 up.

Miss Stirling won seventh hole in a regular 5 to 6 after Mrs. Stetson took three puts. Miss Stirling 3 up. Eighth was ideally halved in 5. Miss Stirling lost the ninth 5 to par 4 by missing a short curved put. Miss Stirling 2 up turning home.

Safe After Turn.

From that point, except at twelfth, where she lost her putt and the hole 5 to par 4, Miss Stirling had everything her own way, averaging a perfect score on the tenth, eleventh and Twelfth. On last two holes she had her opponent pressing. Card:

Miss Stirling, out	4	4	5	6	4	6	5	5	5	—44
Mrs. Stetson, out	5	4	8	6	5	5	6	5	4	—48
Miss Stirling, in	4	5	5	6	6
Mrs. Stetson, in	5	6	4	7	7

Twenty holes were required for Mrs. Thomas Hucknall, of Forest Hills, victor yesterday over Mrs. J. V. Hurd, to defeat Miss Edith Campbell, of Philadelphia. Miss Mildred Caverly, of Philadelphia, won from Mrs. E. C. Letts, of Cincinnati, in 19 holes. Miss Edith Chesborough, California's sole representative, was defeated by Miss Elaine Rosenthal, of Ravinsloe, 4 and 2, while Miss Alice Sargent, the only Boston player, was defeated by Mrs. Caleb F. Fox, Huntingdon Valley, 5 and 4.

The best medal score today was an 83 by Mrs. W. A. Gavin, the English woman who holds the eastern title, whose 81 was the best yesterday.

Summaries, second round:

Miss Laurie Kaiser, Flossmoor, defeated Mrs. T. E. Forrest, Knolwood, 4-2.

Mrs. T. Hucknall, Forest Hills, defeated Miss Ethel Campbell, Philadelphia, 1 up, 20 holes.

Miss Mildred Caverly, Philadelphia, defeated Mrs. E. C. Letts, Cincinnati, 1 up, 19 holes.

Mrs. Caleb F. Fox, Huntingdon Valley, defeated Miss Alice Sargent, The Country, 5-4.

Mrs. C. A. Aunchinclose, Piping Rock, defeated Miss Mildred Smith, Evanston, 4-2.

Mrs. W. A. Gavin, Taconic, defeated Mrs. L. C. Stockton, Somerville, N. J., 4-2.

Miss Elaine Rosenthal, Ravinsloe, defeated Miss Edith Chesborough, Burlingame, Cal., 4-2.

Miss Alexa Stirling, Atlanta, defeated Mrs. G. H. Stetson, Huntingdon Valley, 5-4.

GEORGIA CRIPPLED FOR CLEMSON GAME

Athens, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—The Clemson-Georgia game at Anderson, S. C., neutral ground, is now attracting attention. A plan was on foot for the day to be declared a holiday at Georgia, and since there are no nearby games out of Athens this fall for an excursion of the students, it was proposed that the entire student body take special trains for Anderson. This will hardly go through, however, but it is said that permission will be granted to all the boys (who have parental permission) that may wish to make the trip next Saturday. The Seaboard Air Line and Southern will both make special rates, it is said.

Coach Cunningham is looking for a hard game on Saturday with Clemson—though he is confident of his own team he realizes the good qualities of the Clemson Tigers. In addition, there has been rarely a time before an important game when there were so many of the regulars on the Red and Black squad suffering from injuries, slight, most of them, but enough to hurt.

Dezendorf has a crippled finger that is giving him much trouble; Wingate and Thrash both have sprained ankles that are treacherous; Beaseley has a crippled hip, amounting almost to a dislocation, and Coleman has a black eye. Garmany is also suffering from slight injuries suffered in practice, and there are some other minor wounds among the regulars and reserves.

Despite the "crips," Coach Cunningham and Assistants Henderson and Paddock have been putting every man able to work through strenuous practice each afternoon this week, and there will be a team Saturday to meet Clemson that will give good account of itself.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Yanks Win Two.

New York, October 4.—New York won fourth place in the 1916 American league race by taking both games of today's double-header with Washington. The scores were 4 to 3 and 5 to 1. The double defeat dropped Washington into seventh place, a half-game behind Cleveland, while New York moved up a half game ahead of St. Louis. Bunched hitting in the third inning gave the home team victory in the final game. The first contest was decided by Pipp's home run in the eighth with one on. Rice hit a home run in the ninth inning. Pipp's home run was his twelfth of the season, and he wins the honors of the league in this specialty.

By Hugh S. Fullerton.

That is what the dope says. It does not exactly coincide with my set opinions, and it certainly does not satisfy my desires, but, if we have any faith in dope or in systems, we must believe the figures.

The dope says that the Boston Red Sox are nearly 600 points better as a ball team than Brooklyn—in a seven-game series.

The figures give cold comfort to the National league. The dope proves that the Red Sox are mechanically superior to the Brooklyn Dodgers in seven points.

The worst point against the National league entry in such a series is that the Red Sox have the greatest advantages in the positions that count for the most in the playing of the game.

The superiority of the Red Sox pitching staff is immense. In reserve strength, in ability to make substitutions without weakening his team, Carrigan has all the advantage. One bad guess as to pitchers would bring disaster to the National league club, while Carrigan is in position to guess wrong once or twice a game and still retrieve the day by a quick change.

Big Advantage to Red Sox.

The dope shows that Boston has the advantage at all styles of going, excepting the base running end of the game. It is an odd thing that base running has become so much of a lost art. If the Detroit team had been lucky enough to get into this series, I think the interest would have been redoubled, and largely because the Detroit team will run the bases, and few of the others either attempt it or try to use it regularly as a means of advancing runners. We have thrown the figures at them to prove that a speedy runner has all the advantage in trying to steal, but they refuse (excepting McGraw, Jennings and Jones) to use base running as a means of making runs. The figures of runs scored will show how effective it is if you compare the runs scored with the hitting of the teams.

However, not one of the teams is a base running team and only Brooklyn would be classed as fast on the bases. Brooklyn has a lot of unused speed.

From the figures, it would seem that the National league's only chance of reclaiming the world's championship is to do it through sheer generalship.

The world's series is a serious business to these players. They take it too much in earnest, and it makes for bad baseball. If any team should go into the world's series and play ball the way it does in its regular season—take the same chances and try to win by surprise attacks—it would have a much better chance. I never have seen but two teams try that—Chicago and Detroit in 1908—and they both tried it the same moment, and the result was one of the most desperately fought and interesting series ever played. There was something doing at every jump.

Always Playing It Safe.

In these series so much is at stake that the players and managers hesitate to take a chance. They play it safe, and so safe that the opposing team knows what is coming and plays for it. Beyond keeping down the scores it does not help. It makes for clean, mechanical baseball, but not for sensational playing and brilliancy. Usually, after one team has the series won, it cuts loose, as the Red Sox did last year, and plays at its regular season's gait. The other club beaten, resorts to desperate methods and makes things lively.

Now the National league seems to have little chance. Why would it not be a great idea to cut loose and play the game with the old dash and brilliancy? Stallings won a pennant by doing exactly that thing.

Another point: it is a known fact in baseball that an unknown pitcher usually is effective against any club. Watch the youngsters getting their fall tryouts now and see how they beat the other teams. This is such a common experience that every manager of a leading club dreads seeing an untried youngster step to the mound against him. He knows that, when they find what the youngster possesses and look him over for a time, they will hit him, but for that game he will have them guessing and probably will beat them. That being the case, why should not the manager of a club that has little more in his kit besides a hope of winning try some strong-armed wild fellow who is strange to the other team instead of sending out his oldest and most experienced pitcher, whose every move is known to the opposition from previous information gathered before the series? Fred Clark did it once with Babe Adams and surprised Detroit out of the world's championship. He did it because he was compelled to do it, Adams being the only curve pitcher he had in shape.

If Brooklyn should send Dell, for instance, in at the start, it would look as if it were a good move. However, there is no hope of that. The managers will select their best—the players will play the game according to the outlook, and it will be all cut and dried and mechanical until some one gains a big lead. Then the crowds are liable to see real baseball.

That is the dope on the series. We have studied and know the mechanical strengths and weaknesses of each team in each position. We are fairly well informed as to what pitchers will work. Now, all we have to do is to apply the figures to runs and hits and see how the series will result. To do this is not simple. We are compelled to take each Boston pitcher and study him against each opposing player. In that way, we can calculate within a hit or two of how hard the National leaguers ought to hit him. Given the number of hits, approximately, the team will make, and which batters will make them, we can figure, with fair accuracy, how many runs will result. Then, if we can calculate which pitchers will work against each other, we ought to get close to the actual scores of the games. Anyhow, we'll try it tomorrow.

JOINER IS NAMED GORDON'S CAPTAIN

Barnesville, Ga., October 4.—(Special.) T. D. Joiner, a member of the present senior class, has been chosen to lead Gordon's eleven on the gridiron this fall. Sidney ("Monk") Dupree was elected to this honor, last fall, but has failed to return to school.

Joiner was one of the many whom Jim Moore tried out at the wing positions last fall, and is still being used in this role, he now flanking the right side of the Crimson's line.

The cadets emerged from the Carrollton A. & M. game practically unscathed, only a few of their following sustaining injuries, and they merely bruises of minor import. The showing of the squad against the north Georgians was quite pleasing to every body. The Aggies are not easy picking for just any team, and Coach Cocke has every reason to expect big things of his squad. Kirkland, Day, Jones and Urquhart, who showed up so well in the line, are expected to bear a lion's share of the work ahead. The latter's work was an especial feature, this being his first appearance in moleskin, and big things are expected of him in the future.

Purcell, another lineman of note, who was kept out of Monday's fracas because of an injured knee, is also well thought of in the Crimson camp.

Either Lanier or Mercer scrubs will be the next team to move on Barnesville. Joe Smith, a former Cornell performer, will probably officiate.

JOE BEAN RESIGNS AS GEORGIA COACH

Will Devote His Entire Time to the Atlanta Athletic Club and Marist College.

The prospects of the Georgia baseball team for the season of 1917 has been struck a severe blow, according to a story appearing in "Club Life" the official organ of the Atlanta Athletic club.

This paper states that Joe Bean, who has been coaching the University baseball team for the past few years, has severed his connection with the Georgia Athletic association and will hereafter devote his entire time to the Atlanta Athletic club and Marist college.

JOHN HENDERSON SUCCEEDS BEAN.

Athens, Ga., October 4.—(Special.) Athletics at the University have been completely rearranged. Coach Alex Cunningham is professor physical education, while Professor S. V. Sanford is in charge of the department. Cunningham will have complete charge of football. John Henderson succeeds Joe Bean. Henderson will have entire charge of baseball, basketball and track will be directed from the gym.

GEORGIA SCRUBS TO PLAY G. M. C. ELEVEN

Athens, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—The Georgia scrub team will play the strong Georgia Military college team from Milledgeville at Milledgeville on Saturday, while the varsity is playing Clemson. The scrubs will be in charge of Dave Paddock, who has been coaching them during the past week.

The scrubs are in some respects nearly as strong as the varsity and the game between them and G. M. C. should prove to be a stiff one.

Kremlin Killed.

Pittsfield, Mass., October 4.—Kremlin, the sire of more 2:10 trotters than any horse in the world, has been killed at the Allen farm. Kremlin was champion trotter in 1892, and had a record of 2:07¾. The horse was 29 years old, and, rather than sell it with the other stock, it was put to death.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!
Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.
Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury, quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.
When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.
Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

"MAN OF THE HOUR" TAKES HELM IN JAPAN

Gen. Terauchi Selected for Premier—Favors Stronger Policy Toward West.

Tokio, October 4.—The emperor has requested Lieutenant General Count Seiki Terauchi, former minister of war and also formerly resident general in Korea, to organize a cabinet in succession to the ministry of Marquis Okuma.

The resignation of Premier Okuma brought to a head the intense struggle between the bureaucratic forces and the advocates of a representative government, which culminated in the victory of the bureaucrats by the emperor's designation of Count Terauchi to form a cabinet.

Premier Okuma aided Baron Kato in his efforts to form a new ministry and thus succeeded in amalgamating the three groups composing the government's majority in the house of representatives into one great party. By this move the new amalgamation has only the Seiyukai, or conservative, party in opposition and brings about a two-party political system in Japan similar to that in the United States and Great Britain.

The movement displeased the statesmen of the old school, who feared that it would be undesirably progressive, and was opposed especially by Count Terauchi, whose slogan is a no-party form of government.

Baron Kato was recommended to the emperor by Premier Okuma, who called attention to the fact that Kato was a leader of the majority groups in the house of representatives and had supported loyally the policies of the present cabinet. Prince Yamagata, Marquis Matsukata, Prince Oyama and Marquis Saoinji recommended to the emperor the appointment of Count Terauchi.

The selection of Count Terauchi is believed to be a victory for the army party. Viscount Ichioro Motono, the ambassador to Russia, is being considered as foreign minister in the new cabinet. It is learned that Count Terauchi will ask Baron Kato to support the new party and thus effect a compromise.

TERAUCHI CALLED "MAN OF THE HOUR."

Washington, October 4.—Little is known in official circles here as to what policy Lieutenant General Terauchi, Japan's new premier, will adopt. He always has been a military man almost above party questions, but he is regarded as a follower in politics of former Premier Yamagata, under whose influence "the gentlemen's agreement" and other friendly arrangements were made with the United States.

For some time there has been considerable agitation in Japan in favor of General Terauchi's elevation to the premier's portifolio, especially by those who felt former Premier Okuma's policy was too favorable to western nations and too lenient to China. He frequently has been spoken of in the Japanese press as the "man of the hour," and his opponents have criticised him largely because of his belief in strict censorship of news, the importance he has attached to the military party and his aversion to politicians.

General Terauchi's greatest achievement was the annexation of Korea. Made governor general in 1911, he was instrumental in revolutionizing the Korean policy of Marquis Ito and Viscount Sone, his predecessors. At the end of his first month in office he had secured police powers in Korea for Japan, during the second he secured the right to garrison Japanese troops there; and at the end of that month the formal notification of the annexation of the territory was made to the powers. He was given great credit for having accomplished this without encountering a revolt among the Koreans.

An alleged plot against his life caused the arrest of 103 Koreans and resulted in a sensational trial, during which reports were circulated that American missionaries were involved and that the prisoners had been tortured. The reports in regard to the missionaries were denied by the United States department. Some of the prisoners testified that the police had tried to obtain from them confessions implicating Americans.

General Terauchi was born in Choshu in 1852, was made a sub-lieutenant in 1871, worked up through various military positions to supervision of the transport system during the Chinese war, became a lieutenant general in 1897 and later served as inspector general of military instruction and vice chief of the general staff. In 1902 he became war minister in the Katsura cabinet, which position he held till his appointment as governor general of Korea nine years later.

YOUNG BOY IS KILLED BY FALL FROM HORSE

Bainbridge, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—The twelve-year-old son of Greene Murkerson, a farmer living a few miles west of here in this county, was found in a dying condition in the woods yesterday afternoon. The little fellow was carried home and died without regaining consciousness.

It was thought at first that foul play might have caused the boy's death, but later information seems to prove that it was an accident. He had been in poor health for some time and was just getting strong enough to get about a little. During the afternoon his father sent him on horseback to Reynoldsville for medicine and when he failed to return by dark searching parties went out and found him in an unconscious condition and with a wound seemingly caused by a heavy blow on his head. He had evidently fallen from his horse and struck his head against a stump. There were traces of hair and blood where his head had hit.

WHEAT PRICES RISE ON LARGE EXPORTS

New High Record for 1916 Follows Extensive Sales Abroad, December Wheat Reaching 1.59 1-2—Corn, Oats and Provisions Up.

Chicago, October 4.—Export buying, which was said to be on a large scale, helped to elevate the wheat market today to new high record prices for 1916, and so, too, did denials of rumors that rain had fallen in Argentina. The close was strong at ⅞@¾ to 1⅜c net advance with December at $1.59½ to 1.59¾ and May at $1.58½. Corn gained ¼ to ¾@⅞c; oats, ½c, and provisions 17½ to $1.62½.

At first the wheat market showed a noticeable tendency to sag, owing to prevalent opinions that the bullish effect of the Argentine drought had been discontinued enough, especially as some authorities expressed hope of a change soon in the weather conditions and as rumors were current that rain had already fallen at certain places where needed. There were also intimations from British sources that measures were being taken to enlarge shipments from Australia.

On the ensuing decline, however, indications pointed to a resumption of buying for Europe and it was shown by late dispatches that the reports of rain in the Argentina drought region were without any good basis. Substantial gains in the last hour of the session replaced the earlier losses of wheat values and left the market in the end at virtually the topmost prices yet this season. Export business was finally announced as totalling 800,000 bushels, largely for Holland. Assertions of heavy buying for the British government were officially denied.

Corn, as well as wheat, was bullishly affected by export demand. The big shipments of corn from here of late were generally regarded as significant.

Oats reflected the strength of other grain, but only to a slight extent. Liberal receipts formed more or less of an offset.

A squeeze of shorts in October pork tended to lift the provision market as a whole. At one time the coveted option was bid up nearly $2 a barrel, but it did not appear that any large transactions were involved.

New York, October 4.—Early irregularity was followed by a very sharp advance in the cotton market today, with prices making new high records in the late trading. January deliveries sold up from 16.84 to 17.18, or 52 points above the low level of yesterday and the market closed strong at a net advance of 31 to 37 points.

The opening was barely steady at an advance of 3 to 16 points. As Liverpool was about as due this reflected a narrowing of the differences between the two markets which evidently attracted fresh straddle selling. There was also some scattered southern and local selling as well as further realizing and prices eased off to within 4 or 5 points of last night's close right after the call. Offerings were very well absorbed below 16 90 for January, however, while the selling became a little less active after the close of Liverpool and prices here turned firmer during the middle of the morning.

A good part of the buying was said to be for trade interests, which probably increased the nervousness of early sellers, and some stop orders were uncovered when January contracts sold up to 17.06, or 25 points net higher. After their execution there were setbacks of several points from the best under realizing, but buying was encouraged by reports of unfavorable weather in the eastern belt and a continued large spot business in the southern markets. At any rate, the market soon turned firmer again and made new high ground for the day and season in the late trading when December sold at 17.14, March at 17.36 and May at 17.50, or 35 to 39 points net higher. Closing prices were 2 or 3 points off from the best under realizing.

Private reports received here indicated cold rains and high winds in parts of the south while there were reports from the southwest to the effect that gins were beginning to be run on part time and that farmers were hauling back part of their cotton to hold for higher prices.

Spot cotton, quiet; middling uplands, 16.80; no sales.

New High Levels at New Orleans.

New Orleans, October 4.—New high levels for the season were reached in cotton here today on a quiet market, which was characterized by many downward movements, under realizing sales from holders of long contracts. The strongest period was during the last half hour of business, when brokers were unable to meet the demand and prices shot upward from a net advance of about 5 points to a net advance of 25 to 29 points. This buying was encouraged by the soft spot and had its basis in the increased export movement, the widespread spot demand over the south and fear of unfavorable weather. The close was firm at a net gain of 25 to 27 points.

In the early trading prices rose 11 to 14 points on good cables and the government statistics showing increased consumption of cotton by manufacturers of explosives. Expectations of bullish weekly crop and weather reports increased the demand and the rise was widened to 16 to 24 points by noon. The official statement that recent frosts had done no harm and the tone of the weekly reports resulted in considerable liquidation in the early afternoon and there was a gradual sag until active months were only 1 to 5 points over yesterday's close. The market hung at this level for a while but suddenly firmed up and assumed an advancing tendency which was maintained to the close.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, October 4.—(Special.)—New high levels for cotton was the net result of today's trading. Ten thousand bales bought at the opening started the market and since it is popular and stylish to buy anything that moves upward, the speculative trade grabbed for cotton and the finish was at the best of the day.

Ginning and marketing continue at a terrific rate and no thought is given to the statistics which accumulate bearish. With cotton above the 17-cent level, 50 and even 100 points swings in price are naturally to be expected, but it has become unpopular to hedge spot cottons now and hence there seems as much speculation in the actual market as there is in the contract market.

These prices should bring out the 716,000 bales of old cotton which were not marketed in the two previous crops, and before the season ends, should it be selling at anything like prices we expect to see, the mill stocks and the visible supply unwilling holders of even half of what they held on August 1 last. If the visible supply be left at 1,000,000 and the American mill stocks be left at 700,000 bales, then the old cotton, 716,000 bales, and the new crop, 11,637,000 bales and 1,000,000 linters, be marketed, more than 15,000,000 bales would have to be actually spun by the spinners of the world. To spin 15,000,000 bales of 17-cent cotton looks a stupendous task. The mills have taken that much cotton in previous years, but have never spun that much. Those who have been buying cotton have been right, but they are adding daily to their commitments of an article of which no famine exists or is promised.

RENSKORF, LYON & CO.

New York, October 4.—(Special.)—The cotton market today, under heavy general buying, advanced over 25 points, which marked the highest prices reached so far. Southern advices report a strong demand for cotton both for foreign and domestic account and this news stimulates buying here. The spinner has now reached the point where the securing of a supply of raw material is his first concern and we expect his demand to be so persistent from day to day as to keep the market headed upward.

BOND, M'ENANY & CO.

New York, October 4.—(Special.)—Irrespective of temporary fluctuations, we call our friends' attention to the fact that the hito-night figures when prices were very much lower began to show a material increase in the first week of October and continued to show an increase until the second or third week in December, the amount brought into sight ranging from between one-third of a million to two-thirds of a million bales a week. With the present price of cotton it would be unreasonable to expect a decline in the movement and, eliminating any other argument, we believe that the purchases of future cotton at present prices is fraught with great danger. Many well-informed persons believe that purchases made now will show handsome profits, but we cannot consistently advise our clients to take the risk, which, in our opinion, is very great at the present time.

JOHNSTON, STORM & CO.

New York, October 4.—(Special.)—The cotton market today scored opening advances of from 16 to 20 points. Heavy realizing in January on the call by a prominent house caused quick recessions from opening prices of 11 to 16 points. Good buying then appeared and prices worked up to the highest price of the year in all otions.

Some of the best houses in the trade are still very bullish on cotton and are predicting very much higher prices in the near future. Moreover, as an evidence of sincerity, they are backing up their views by heavy purchases. The only selling in this market comes from those pulling down long profits or from stubborn bears, who, to use a popular expression, are "feeling for the top." This, in our opinion, is likely to prove a costly experiment.

Conditions are so unusual in respect to crop and trade condition that it is an impossibility to forecast what levels cotton may reach. We still favor purchases. We think 18 cents for March and May by no means an impossibility this week. Indications point a wild opening and much higher prices tomorrow. The oil market is becoming very active, December sold at 10.55, March 10.75. We think both will cross 11 cents this week. We favor purchases.

CHAS. FAIRCHILD & CO.

New York, October 4.—(Special.)—Throughout the day the cotton market was firm. Liverpool houses sold against purchases in their market to take advantage of a narrower intermarket difference, which has been 290 points and is now about 260 difference. On declines there is a large buying power partly on account of spinners and partly for speculators. The holdings of the latter are, however, largely over-estimated, while the demand of the former is insistent. The interior spot markets were higher and the hedge sales were in consequence small.

J. W. JAY & CO.

New York, October 4.—(Special.)—An active demand stimulated by the government condition report of Monday came from western and Wall street sources this morning and with the exception of a period of profit, together with hedge selling before noon, continued to the close amidst much excitement. The market closed at the highest prices, the demand far exceeding the supply from the south or from the original longs, many of whom think cotton has reached a price at which it is dangerous to be long until more of the crop is marketed. Sentiment is very bullish, and it is believed the cotton goods market will follow the advance, permitting spinners to buy at these prices.

Remarks.

Synopsis of weather and crop conditions in Georgia for the week ending Tuesday, October 3, 1916:

The weather during the past week was fine for outdoor work; the early part was warm, but toward the close the temperature fell decidedly, especially in the northern part of the state, and prevented the rapid opening of late cotton bolls in the north. The weather has been too dry for fall gardens and for turnips, which are poor. Cotton is about all gathered in the southern division, and is probably two-thirds out in the rest of the state. The weevil is advancing rapidly north and east and has been observed in the vicinity of Macon. Hay has been about all saved. Peanuts, sugar cane and pecans are promising. Harvesting corn and sweet potatoes and fall plowing continue.

C. F. von HERRMANN,
Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

Dry Goods.

New York, October 4.—The primary cotton goods market was very firm today. Fine numbers of worsted yarns were in good demand. Cotton yarns were steady; burlaps quiet.

Great Increase Shown In Foodstuffs Cost In New Orleans Shops

New Orleans, October 4.—Advances in retail prices of various foodstuffs in New Orleans of from 15 to 100 per cent over prices of a year ago, were shown in figures obtained from local merchants and markets today. Among the articles which have advanced and the percentages of increase were: Cabbage and potatoes, 100 per cent; beans, 70; flour and onions, 50; sugar, chickens and corn meal, 30; fresh meats, 15 to 30; smoked meats, cheese, eggs, butter and canned goods, 20 per cent.

Prices in most of the cafes and restaurants have been raised from 15 to 20 per cent above a year ago.

NEW YORK COMPANIES OFFER FRENCH BONDS

Brown Brothers & Co. and A. Iselin & Co. announce that they have made a special arrangement with the French government, whereby they will receive subscriptions for the national French loan of 1916. The fixed rate of exchange in this country will be 5.80 francs to the dollar, which, it is pointed out, is more favorable than the current rate. By the terms of the arrangement with the bankers, delivery of the definitive rentes will be made in New York city free of expense to the subscribers.

The subscriptions will open on Thursday, October 5 and close on or before October 28. Payment is to be made in New York funds on October 30, at the office of Brown Brothers company, 59 Wall street. Temporary receipts will be issued by the two firms named, exchangeable only for the definitive rentes only on delivery in New York to the bankers. Subscriptions may be forwarded, without additional expense to the subscriber, through any bank, banker or trust company.

Among the features of the new issue are the following: Exempt from all French taxes; not redeemable or convertible before January 1, 1931; a direct obligation of the French government; coupons payable quarterly, beginning February 15, 1917. Maturity they will be received by the bankers for payment or collection at the then current rate of exchange.

GERMAN BANK MAKES CONDITION STATEMENT

Berlin, October 4.—(Via London.)—The statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany, issued September 30, shows the following changes:

Total coin and bullion, increased 11,031,000 marks.

Gold, increased 13,148,000 marks.

Treasury notes, increased 130,053,000 marks.

Notes of other banks, decreased 15,674,000 marks.

Bills discounted, increased 3,180,913,000 marks.

Advances, increased 772,000 marks.

Investments, decreased 4,023,000 marks.

Other securities, decreased 142,881,000 marks.

Notes in circulation, increased 509,918,000 marks.

Deposits, increased 2,586,712,000 marks.

Other liabilities, increased 113,555,000 marks.

Total gold holdings, 2,484,770,000 marks.

Sugar.

New York, October 4.—The market for raw sugar was unchanged, but there seemed to be a little more disposition on the part of holders to make commitments. The day's business amounted to about 40,000 bags of Cubas for prompt and specified shipment at 5c cost and freight, with outport options, and at the close of the market there were further offerings at the same price, without sales taken. The market closed at 5c for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 6.02 for centrifugal and 5.12 for molasses.

In refined the feature of the market was the large sales for export account, although the domestic inquiry was quieter. Export business was said to have amounted to about 30,000 tons by one refiner, which was believed to be the largest individual order on record. Prices were unchanged, with all refiners quoting on the basis of 7c for fine granulated, except one, which was listed at 6.90. There were moderate withdrawals on old order by domestic buyers.

Coffee.

New York, October 4.—The market for coffee futures was quiet today with fluctuations irregular. Yesterday's decline had carried March contracts back to very nearly the low point of last month and there seemed to be some reactionary sentiment around the ring at the opening. First prices were 3 to 6 points higher in consequence and active months sold about 5 to 8 points under last night's closing figures right after the call. Setbacks followed with March easing off from 8.76 to 8.67 under a little trade selling, but the market firmed up on renewed covering late in the afternoon and closed at a net advance of 5 to 10 points. Sales, 17,750.

RAILROAD STOCKS LEAD IN ACTIVITY

Norfolk and Western Takes Flight Which Brings Prices Past Previous Records—Steel Closes With Small Gain.

New York, October 4.—The significant feature of today's trading, in which the turn-over again exceeded a million shares by a comfortable margin, was the prominence of the railroad group. Those shares far outdistanced all other issues as to combined activity and extent of gains and imparted a foundation of solidity that occasionally was lacking in other parts of the list.

Additional statements of earnings furnished the motive power in elevating the railway shares, many making best prices of the year, or since the outbreak of the war, while Norfolk & Western surpassed all its previous quotations on an advance of 5½ points to 145¼.

Other notably strong rails included Union Pacific, which responded to its remarkable report for the fiscal year, New York Central, whose earnings for the same period are estimated at no less than 20 per cent; Louisville and Nashville, which earned almost 18 per cent against 6.87 in the previous year, and St. Paul, Illinois Central and half a score of subsidiary or minor lines. In these issues gains extended from 1 to 3 points, with normal recessions at the closes. Industrials, especially munitions, coppers and motors moved irregularly with further substantial gains in the paper shares, American Linseed common and preferred, Central Leather and Hide and Leather preferred, at the new record of 75⅞. Sugars also supplemented recent advances on reports of heavy sales to foreign interests, and the shares of the several express companies rose 3 to 4 points.

United States Steel, while again the individual leader, exerted little influence marketwise, ranging between 117 and 118¼, and closing at 117⅝, a net gain of the smallest fraction. Related issues moved in narrow limits and finished with losses of small fractions to a point. Total sales amounted to 1,125,000 shares.

There was more activity in foreign exchange, marks and rubles shading on small offerings. Sterling bills were steady with checks on Paris.

Bonds were active and strong. Total sales, par value, $6,180,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

TROUBLED WITH PIMPLES 2 MONTHS

Also Dandruff. Scratched and Caused A Burning Sensation, Head in An Awful Condition.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I was troubled about two months with pimples and dandruff. The pimples were hard and red and when I scratched them it seemed to cause a burning sensation and I could hardly sleep. My head was in an awful condition and I was ashamed to go out. My hair was dry and stubborn and would come out when I would attempt to comb it.

"I bought a box of ——— which did very little good. A friend told me about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I sent for a free sample. Then I bought a bar of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and in two weeks' time I was completely healed." (Signed) Richard Allen, Cuero, Texas, March 6, 1916.

Sample Each Free by Mail

With 32-p. Skin Book on request. Address post-card: "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." Sold throughout the world.

BEGIN HOT WATER DRINKING IF YOU DON'T FEEL RIGHT

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated, if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sours and forms gas and acid in stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, sallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poisons and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.—(adv.)

If your skin itches just use Resinol

No remedy can honestly promise to heal every case of eczema or similar skin ailment. But Resinol Ointment, aided by Resinol Soap, gives such instant relief from the itching and burning, and so generally succeeds in clearing the eruption away for good, that it is the standard skin treatment of thousands and thousands of physicians. Why not try it?

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap are sold by all druggists. For sample of each, free, write to Dept. 2-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

J. D. PRICE IS ELECTED TO SUCCEED DELOACH

Commissioner of Agriculture Becomes Director of Experiment Station on Jan. 1.

Griffin, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—At the quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the Georgia experiment station, held this morning, the resignation of Director R. J. H. DeLoach was tendered and accepted with sincere regrets, and J. D. Price, state commissioner of agriculture, was placed in nomination for director and unanimously elected, his term of office to begin January 1. He will complete the unexpired term of Director DeLoach and was also elected for a full term of one year from April 1. The interim up to January 1 will be filled by H. P. Stuckey, a member of the station staff, who was designated by the board today. Mr. DeLoach's resignation becomes effective November 1.

The newly elected director is one of Georgia's most progressive agriculturists, having for years been prominently identified with the many agricultural enterprises and affairs of the state.

By virtue of his office, J. J. Brown, who succeeds to the office of state agricultural commissioner on January 1, will be chairman of the board of directors of the station.

Director DeLoach's report today showed all departments of the station to be in a most satisfactory condition and he was highly complimented upon his able, efficient service by the board, which regrets his resignation, but at the same time feels that he can be of more service to the general public in the office to which he has been elected as head of the agricultural, and educational department of the Armour Packing company, of Chicago.

Mrs. Cheatham Leads Large Law Class at Washington School

Mrs. Elliott Cheatham, formerly of Atlanta, now of Washington, D. C., led her class last year in the George Washington Law school. This announcement was made at the opening of the law school this year when the dean announced that out of a class of one hundred and forty-five men and women Mrs. Cheatham of Atlanta had most brilliantly led the entire class; that her examination papers as well as answers in class had been the continued comment of the faculty last year. The dean further stated that Mrs. Cheatham was a champion of Woman's Rights and judging from her work in the law class would become a stronger factor in winning the much coveted franchise.

Mrs. Cheatham was Miss Ida May Blount, of Atlanta, and was one of the brightest young women in the younger society when she married and subsequently moved to Washington City to reside. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bartow Blount, and a granddaughter of the late General Gartrell. She is a graduate of the academic department of Columbia University, and is the type of woman who is equipped and qualified to serve in the citizenship of the country. She is one of the charter members of the Equal Suffrage party of Georgia.

DAVIDSON WILL WORK FOR W. & A. EXTENSION

That there will be at least one bill for the extension of the Western and Atlantic railroad to the sea became known yesterday, when Representative W. T. Davidson, of Putnam, who has been re-elected to the next house, declared that he would introduce such a measure on the first day of the session. His measure will provide that the proposed extension shall pass through the city of Eatonton.

You feel wonderfully secure with a flashlight in your pocket

It's comforting, to say the least, when you are out walking or riding at night to have an instantaneous light concealed in your coat or vest pocket where it can be brought into service within the twinkling of an eye.

And, not only do you feel secure, but they are so often a vital necessity that every man should be as careful to have his "Eveready" along as he would to have his hat.

They are also most convenient as a household light, where they are in easy reach for any emergency.

We have them in every imaginable size and shape from the smallest fountain-pen size up to the larger hand lanterns.

Fresh supplies of dry batteries are always on hand for every type of flashlight.

Maud Powell Will Charm Big Audience In Atlanta Tonight

Greatest of Women Violinists Has Reached Top of Ladder Through Ability Alone—Has Needed No Press Agents' Help.

Maud Powell, greatest of all women violinists, reached Atlanta late Wednesday afternoon for her concert tonight, under the auspices of the Alkahest Lyceum course, at the Auditorium-Armory. And with Maud Powell came—her violin and her accompanist. Noticeably missing was the retinue of servants, maids, valets, butlers and—fancy, woolly pups, the stereotyped delegation which usually accompanies the great artists of the day.

MAUD POWELL
Who appears at Auditorium tonight under the auspices of the Alkahest system.

Not one of these was with Madame Powell when she stepped from a machine at the entrance of the Terrace, where she is stopping during her stay. And, a thorough search of the hotel would fail to reveal any of them. For—maud Powell doesn't carry such things with her.

The reason of it all is, that Maud Powell doesn't care for such things. Her violin, her accompanist and her audience are all that offer attractions for the great artist. Nothing else matters to her. And the result is that she has reached the top of the Ladder of Fame through ability alone.

The press agent who goes to Maud Powell seeking something of a freakish nature to bring before the public will be a sadly disappointed human. There is nothing of the sort about her. She is just—Maud Powell, a great, soulful woman who loves her violin, her art, her husband (certainly Maud Powell has a husband) and her audiences.

It is the last which more than anything else has endeared her to the public. Powell loves her hearers. Not for the applause which they may give, but for the responding chords of sympathy, of music, of feeling, which she creates and which, like the proverbial bread cast upon the waters, comes back a hundred fold. It is this intimateness that has made Maud Powell famous. Through it she has reached the hearts of her hearers and having reached there, she has made for herself a home which will last as long as the hearer lives.

Madame Powell's concert will begin tonight at 8:15 o'clock, and car officials have promised ample accommodation for the crowd which will hear her.

BLOODWORTH WON'T RUN FOR THE SUPREME COURT

Forsyth, Ga., October 4.—(Special.)—Hon. O. H. B. Bloodworth, who recently received the largest popular vote, but lost in the convention, his race for the court of appeals, is a game loser, and wears the same affable smile and greets you with the same cordial handshake as of yore. The newspapers of the past few days have carried articles to the effect that he would run for the supreme court, but when interviewed he declared that he would not be a candidate.

"I have always tried to live up to the Golden Rule," he stated. "Judge Gilbert is my friend. He has been appointed to fill an unexpired term. Were our positions reversed, I would not like for him to run against me, and I shall do as I would like to be done by, and not be a candidate. Here are hearty congratulations to him and to Judges Jenkins, George and Luke."

Is Work Too Hard?

Many kinds of work wear out the kidneys, and kidney trouble makes any kind of work hard. It brings morning lameness, backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness, rheumatism and distressing urinary troubles. If your work is confining, or strains the back, or exposes you to extreme heat or cold or damp, it's well to keep the kidneys active. Doan's Kidney Pills are reliable and safe. Thousands recommend them.

An Atlanta Case:

L. H. Smith, city fireman, 95 Williams street, says: "I had frequent attacks of kidney trouble and nothing seemed to help me. A friend finally brought me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and told me to try them. I did and in a short time I commenced to feel better. By the time I had finished one box, I was without an ache or pain. The cure has been lasting."

HIGH-CLASS PROPERTY AT LOW PRICES

There are few medium-price subdivisions in Atlanta that are protected by residential restrictions; nearly every section is subject to invasion by the corner grocery store.

These stores are good things in themselves and are necessities of city life where people live out of paper bags, but stores should be in properly selected business centers, and not placed so as to injure residential property.

In laying off our subdivision of 100 acres near West End, we have planned a strictly residential park with no corner stores. We have sold 167 residence lots and 91 houses have been built; besides, there is a $40,000 city school and a 10-acre park and playground. The park is on one of the main routes to the Southeastern Fair; thousands of visitors will pass by it every year.

These lots sell at $800, $900 and $1,000. Terms are very reasonable, and we do not believe there is a better lot for the price in Atlanta. It is a community of home owners, nearly every house in the subdivision being occupied by its owner.

Call and get a copy of our new map showing the owner of every lot in the subdivision.
